Village OK's casino Vote divides town, families

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

By a vote of 6-0, the Antioch Village Board passed a resolution to support the Fox Riverboat Limited Partnership's plan for a riverboat casino. In a special meeting on July 15 at 9:00 p.m. the board announced its difficult decision to reverse their previous position.

"My heart has been broken all day, but if this will help our schools and village, I have to vote for it," said an almost tearful Mabel Lou Weber, trustee. It was apparent that all of the board members found the decision difficult.

Following a non-binding referendum on the ballot in April, the board initially passed a resolution against the casino. Voters in both the village and township voted against the riverboat proposal.

It was the view of the board that Fox Riverboat's new proposal was not before (Continued on page 9)

New 911 for Antioch

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The ribbon was cut at Antioch's new 911 center. Many local politicians and emergency personnel were on hand for the reception honoring the completion of the new 911 system.

Dispatchers Diana Gudjonis and Laurie Sunde were on hand to explain and demonstrate the new equipment. When asked what was different from the old system, Gudjonis answered, "Everything!"

The new facilities offer a larger radio system with more channels. The 911 display now automatically shows the name and phone number of the caller. All of this allows for a quicker response time (Continued on page 9)

Mayor Marilyn Shinnell and Chief Charles Miller cut the ribbon on Antioch's new 911 center while Trustees Wayne Foresta and Dorothy Larson look on.

Round Lake Beach to give clothes away

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Round Lake Beach is sponsoring a clothing drive. People who wish to donate clothes for the flood victims can drop them off at the village hall at 224 Clarendon Drive. For those wishing to pick up clothes, they will be given away at Monday at 10 a.m. for as long as they last. For more information call the village hall at 546-7700.

Bank offers loans to flood victims

FOX LAKE—Fox Lake State Bank has earmarked $2 million to be made available for residents who have suffered flood damage, announced president Kenon Birchard. To help with repairs resulting from the recent deluge, Fox Lake State Bank will be offering junior mortgage loans of up to $5,000 per family of 6 percent annual percentage rate for 12 to 36 months and at 7 percent APR for 48 to 60 months. No appraisal or equity will be required, however, identification of the damage and a repair estimate will prove helpful. Inquiries can be directed to Jim Esposito at 587-2112.

Dissolution continues regardless of state aid

NORTH CHICAGO—North Chicago School District 187 will be receiving nearly $1.4 million more in state aid than last year, but is still going ahead with its dissolution petition. The projected deficit for Dist. 187 for next year is $1.6 million. According to Martin McConahay, school district business manager, the additional $1.4 million in state aid would, "put us very close to carrying us through next year if all of the announced funds come in." Pamela Johnson, school board president, said that she doesn't think that anything has happened to make District 187 consider withdrawing its dissolution petition.

Village police chief plans to address life quality

LAKE ZURICH—Newly appointed Police Chief Frederick J. Clauser says quality of life issues will drive his administration. Clauser, 42, was appointed after a search which began in January ended with the board meeting in executive session for 90 minutes on Monday night where some of the trustees had a chance to meet him for the first time. The new chief has spent the last 20 years at the Wilmette Police Department, the last eight as the Deputy Chief, and according to Village Administrator John F. Dixon brings a "wealth of knowledge" to the department. His first day will be Sept. 1 with a starting salary of $61,500.

Ribbon cutting for new 911 center

offer a larger radio system with more channels. The 911 display now automatically shows the name and phone number of the caller. This system also provides a continuous monitoring system for both public and private alarm systems. Phone numbers are provided on-screen in case these alarms go off. The Lake County Sheriffs Department, Wauconda, Lake Zurich, Island Lake, and now Antioch are all on this system.

Wells by flooded areas may be contaminated

LAKE COUNTY—Areas which flooded in June may have wells that are contaminated from the flood waters. According to Chuck Catlin, well coordinator for the Lake County Department of Health, it is fairly common for wells to be contaminated after a flood. The water runs off down the pipes and contaminates the groundwater. He advises if anyone has any doubt to get their well tested. For residents who had flooding, the bottles can be picked up at the health department for free.

Chudy will vie for little miss honor

GRAYSLAKE—The first runner-up in the Little Miss Grayslake contest will be competing in the pageant July 29. Pageant officials announced Tiffany Choudy, daughter of Myrna and Andrej Chudy, will compete. Erica Jermasek was crowned queen at the pageant in June, but her parents moved. VFW holds reunion for Korean War vets

ANTIOCH—A reunion is being held for members of the Illinois chapter of the "Chosen Few," a group of Korean War Veterans, many of them Purple Heart Veterans, who fought for their country on the North Korean border near Manchuria during November and December of 1950. The event will take place Saturday, July 24 at the Antioch VFW on 75 North Avenue starting at 11 a.m. Veterans and their family members are invited to the gathering.

Former village official to go on mission in Russia

WAUCONDA—Longtime resident and former village official Paul Hansen is dissolving his law practice to spend a year in a Russian village on a religious mission. Hansen said he is going over to Novgorod, a village of 140,000 people just south of Leningrad, to work with area schools to promote religion. Hansen is part of an eight-member team sponsored by the Campus Crusade for Christ International, and will be among the third wave of religious advocates to come to the country. He had been a village police officer in the 1970's, was later named building commissioner and served as police chief for two and one-half years beginning in 1984. Hansen said he would miss the people of Wauconda the most during his one-year stay.

Vernon Hills plans for priority projects

VERNON HILLS—A commuter train station, the renovation of Deerpath Drive and a new post office are at the top of the list for priority projects in Vernon Hills. Other items considered important were the extension of Buffalo Grove Road from Port Clinton Road to NIKE, a village library, an arborethor at the southwest corner of Continental Executive Park, the NIKE site acquisition, expansion of the public works building and a municipal fire department. Also on the list was an 18-hole golf course on the Cuneo property and the construction of additional bike paths. The total projected cost for these proposals is $6,280,000.

Kildeer offers Schreiber contract in surprise vote

KILDEER—After months of discussion that sometimes led to arguing, the Kildeer trustees approved a master village administrator employment agreement and offered it to current administrator Laurel C. Schreiber during a lengthy board meeting Monday. Trustee Terry Albert, who had voted to oust Schreiber in May, cast the deciding vote to offer the contract to her at the continued board meeting. Village President Barbara Schwieter anticipated finalizing the situation by the board's next meeting on Aug. 2.

WAUCONDA—Tracey R. Thompson, 35, was arrested on July 19 in Fox Lake for the July 16 robbery of the First of America Bank, 1180 Dato Lane, by the Wauconda Police and Federal Bureau of Investigations. Thompson was arrested in Fox Lake at around 1:30 p.m. July 19 after authorities received information from an undisclosed source to his whereabouts, said Wauconda Police Chief Andrew W. Mayer. He was charged with bank robbery and could face a maximum of 20 years in prison if convicted, said Ross Rice, FBI spokesman.

County is home to top-notch medical school

Medical students from California know something that many Lake County residents may not know—there is a top-notch, fully-accredited medical school right here in Lake County. The Chicago Medical School, part of the University of Health Sciences. In fact, 45 percent of the 600-650 students that will soon start their fall studies at the North Chicago facility are from California.

by CONNIE KINDSVATER
Lakeland Newspapers

"The reason that the school draws a larger number from California is because that state, along with New York, graduates the highest number of pre-medical students compared to other states," said Dr. Theodore Booden, dean of The Chicago Medical School. "Overall, our students come from diverse ethnic, racial and religious backgrounds."

One of the students from Lake County is F. Matrix Walker from Waukegan, a senior at The Chicago Medical School. Walker started his affiliation with the school when he was at Waukegan West High School, as a participant in the summer Chicago Area Health and Medical Careers Program that was geared towards minority students interested in health care fields.

Walker, son of Frank Walker, principal of Elmwood School in Zion, and Catherine Walker, guidance counselor at Jack Benny Jr. High School in Waukegan, applied at The Chicago Medical School after graduating from the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana and was accepted into the class of 1994.

"The faculty at The Chicago Medical School is so approachable," said Walker. "Even though it's a top-notch school with professors doing world-renown research, they are very approachable."

"In fact," Walker remarked, "all of the professors are willing to take students onto their research projects. Students that are interested can combine study and research, even as early as their first year here."

"And, we actually know our dean—we go in and talk to him at any time. I'd say The Chicago Medical School is definitely more student oriented than most medical schools," said Walker.

Dean Booden agrees. "The way the school treats its students is one of the most remarkable things about it," Booden said. "This is a student-oriented school of medicine."

"We have a 'family' atmosphere," explained the dean. "Our students know that they don't have to be just a number or a name. We spend a lot of time with our students, and we go out of our way to help them achieve their goals."

"Another remarkable thing is that 85 percent of our graduates get one of their top two or three choices for medical residency programs," Booden said, "and that is exceptional for any medical school. Our graduates are now serving residencies in some of the finest and most prestigious hospitals in the nation."

The Chicago Medical School is part of the University of Health Sciences, accredited by North Central, which also includes a School of Related Health Sciences and a School of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies. Founded in 1912 and originally located on the near-west side of Chicago, the privately supported, independent institution moved to its 92-acre North Chicago site in 1980.

The School of Related Health Sciences awards baccalaureate and master's degrees in clinical laboratory sciences, physical therapy and nursing (in conjunction with Barat College). Programs are also offered in the important and rapidly growing areas of physician assistants, clinical dietetics/nutrition and health care risk management.

The School of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies was established for continuing education and training in biological and health-related sciences. Its major aim is to meet the rapidly expanding need for highly qualified biomedical teachers and researchers in the health care field. One of its programs, run in conjunction with the Illinois Institute of Technology (IIT), permits outstanding students to earn accredited degrees in both engineering and medicine in only seven years.

Originally, inspiration for the whole concept of the University of Health Sciences came from Herman M. Finch, now chairman of the Board of Trustees. Responding to a national call in 1965 for a new approach in health care study, Finch's vision was of a university utilizing an interrelationship approach to the study of health care, where allied health professions would study under the same faculty and become partners in a health team.

"Starting with The Chicago Medical School and including the School of Related Health Sciences and the School of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies, the University of Health Sciences was approved in 1966—and became the first university of its kind in the nation," said Finch. "Our university is still unique," Finch remarked. "Other institutions have developed similar health-team concept programs, but they do not have our same philosophy."

"There is a genuine closeness between the faculty and students here that doesn't exist elsewhere," Finch said. "Our professors are not in an ivory tower; they are concerned about the students and pick them up when they stumble. There is a tradition of 'family' which has prevailed throughout the entire development of the university and which is unique."

"Part of our philosophy is that this university would share its resources with the community," said Finch. "Our faculty, staff and students are involved in both local community and statewide projects and programs—we really practice the concept of being a total resource to the community, particularly to Lake County, in all areas."

"I helped plant a seed that has blossomed into a great flower—without in any way comprising on education or research," Finch said. "I feel proud of that."

Good from the bad

I wonder if anyone else living on the water enjoyed the past 4th of July the way we did. It was such a pleasant peaceful weekend with everyone enjoying themselves. There were sailboats, swimmers, ratfters, rowboats with everyone just relaxing. Sometimes good things can come from bad. It was just great.

Applauds board

I am applauding the Antioch Village Board for taking a step for education. They have more of a back bone than our state elected officials who are taking away more of our educational money. Thank you trustee for thinking of the future and children of Antioch.

Criticizes board

What kind of open response form of government was the Antioch Village Board displaying on Thursday night? They held a hurry-up, cram it down your throat meeting in support of the riverboat. Did they forget about the 63 percent of the people who voted against it?

Completely unrepentant

Damn the ham, NOT. My CB handle is Buckwheat. I repeat CB not ham. And, if you are complaining about "bleed-over" on your TV, notify the FCC. I am sure they will tell you to buy a filter. You can't pull a license from a citizens band radio operator, I guess you are out of luck. Until further notice, I will be "Ten-eight".

Big help

Just a note of thanks to the man in the pick-up truck who stopped to push my car out of the intersection at Route 60 and 45. It was 7 a.m. on a Saturday. What comes around, goes around. I hope a good turn comes your way.

Lost reader

I am calling from Round Lake. I gave you a year. Still, no television listings. So, when you call me to renew my subscription, I will say no. I took your paper for over 12 years until you took out TV guide. Is there no one else that misses this? I love Lipservice and will read it in the store.

Personal public service

I am from Round Lake Heights. I want to thank the village board and the mayor during the flood. They went door to door to see how everyone was doing. It was great.

Ticket sufferer

I am calling from Lindenhurst and also get parking tickets from the city of Chicago. It is amazing because I have never taken my car into Chicago. Does anyone out there know how we can get them to stop sending us these tickets? Who do we contact?

Clarifying position

This is "Mad mom" and I want to respond to "Mad at mom." I am not inconsiderate nor am I an ignorant mother. I am a loving mother and I teach my children respect and responsibility. There are parents in Round Lake and everywhere else that do not give a hoot about what their kids do to other people or their property. I am from Round Lake.

Auction and BBQ

On August 1, the Antioch Lions Club and Rescue Squad will be sponsoring a BBQ and auction at Williams Park. The auction is scheduled to begin at noon, but plan to get there around 11 a.m. because the chicken will be ready. The auction proceeds will go to the all-volunteer Antioch Rescue Squad. The barbecue is sponsored by the Antioch Lions Club and the proceeds will be used for community service. The menu includes hot dogs, brats, corn-on-the-cob, desserts, refreshments, and of course, chicken. Children's games begin at noon and a raffle will follow the auction.

Pig roast

The third annual pig roast sponsored by St. Peter Council of Catholic Women will be on Sunday, July 25 on the church grounds on St. Peter St. and Rte. 59, Antioch, from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m. There will also be a bake sale, a crafts and antiques booth, and games for the children. The menu consists of pork, stuffing, German potato salad, corn, applesauce, dessert, punch and coffee. At $5 for adults, $3.50 for children under 12 and children under two are free. Proceeds from this event benefit St. Peter Parish.

Road repairs

The Antioch Village Board okayed new crosswalks, stop lines, and a new sign to improve the safety of village roads. Three crosswalks will be painted on Lake at the Henry, David, and Hillandale intersections. A stop line is planned for Tiffany Road. An "oncoming traffic does not stop" sign is being considered for Orchard Street near the post office. Trustee Foresta also suggested a change for the south bound traffic on Hillside.

Fire Engine

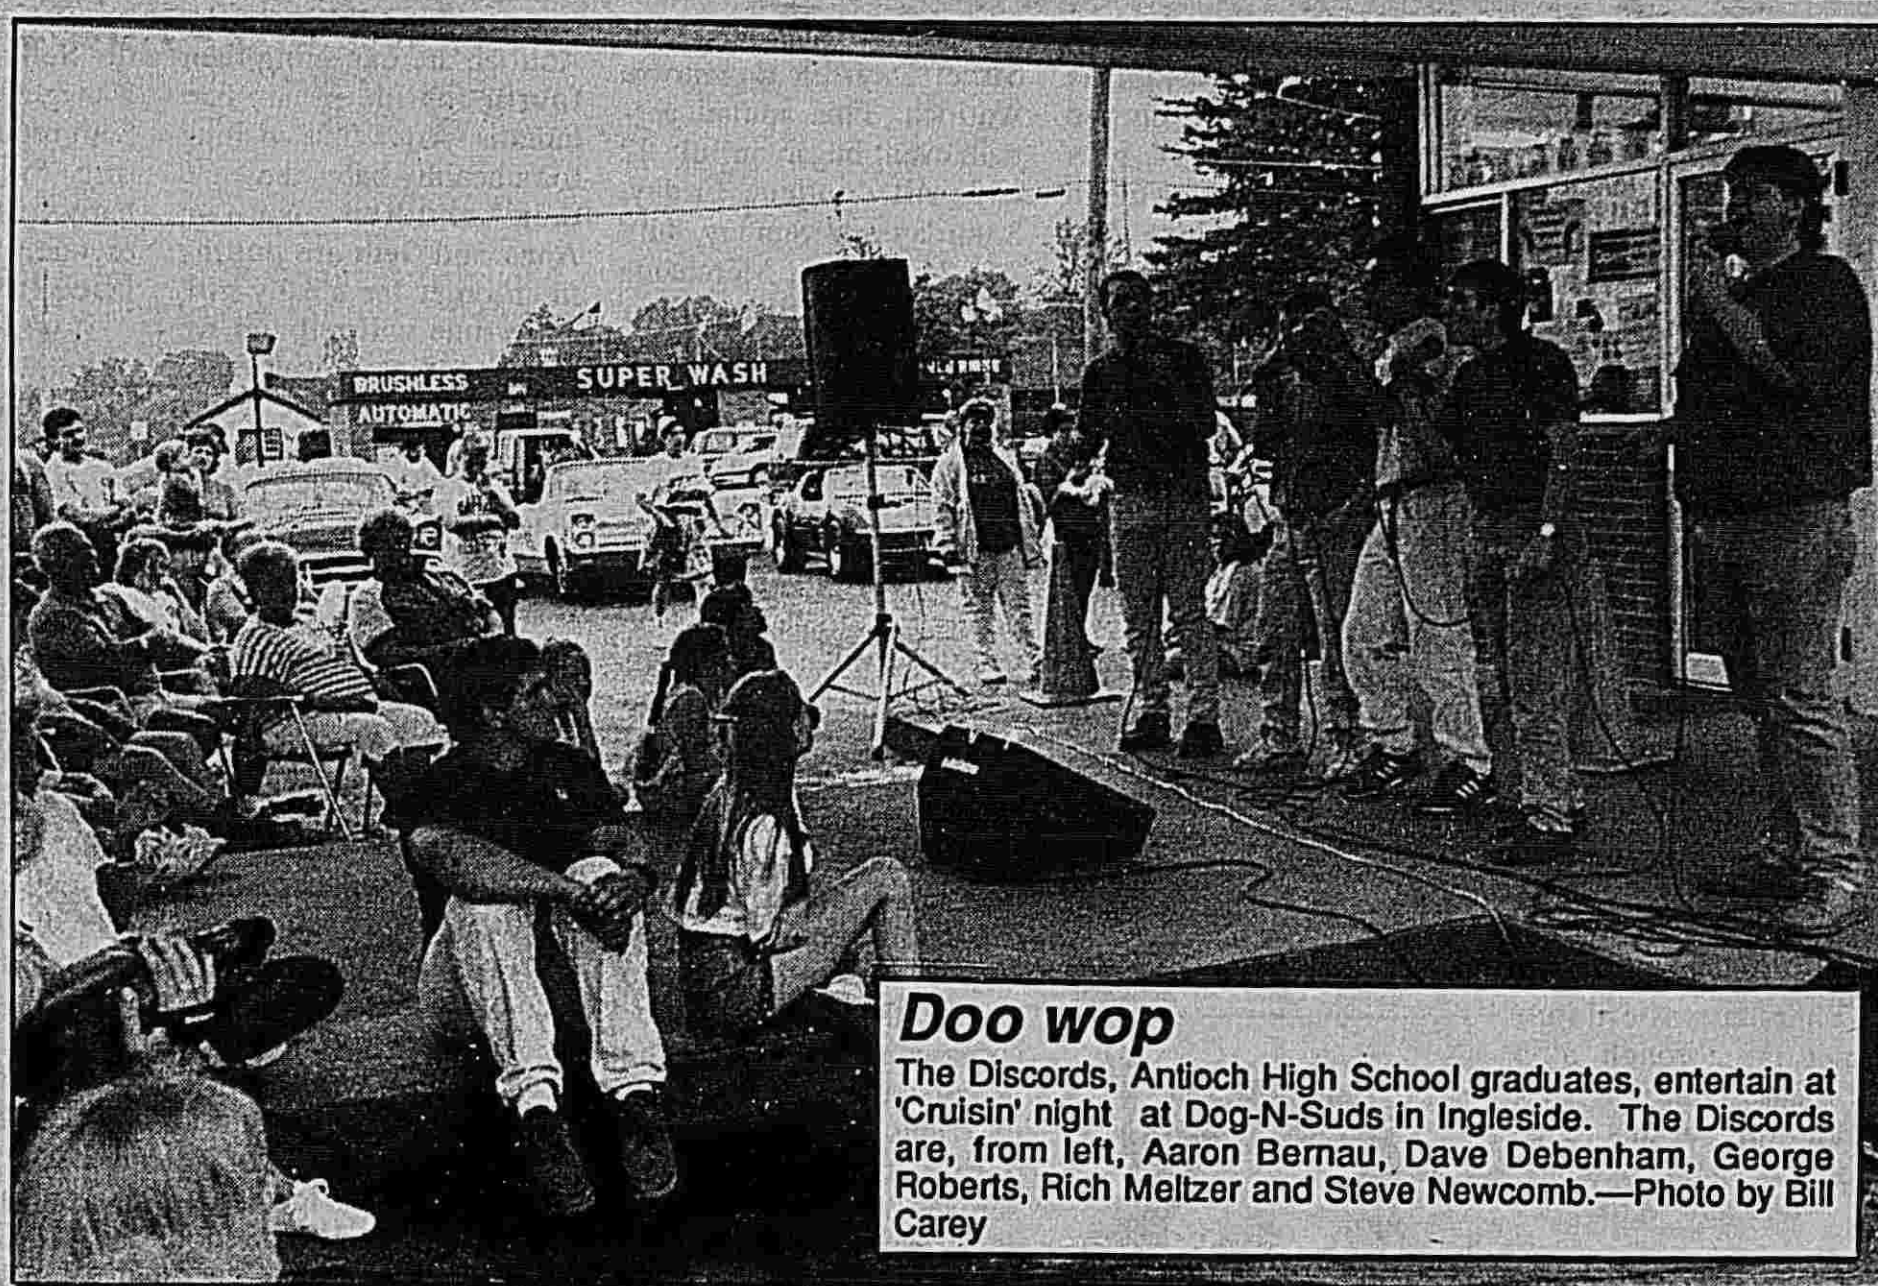

The Antioch Village Board has postponed the decision to purchase a $251,602 2,000 gallon tanker truck for the fire department. The board will reconsider this purchase at the next board meeting.

Purchase approved

The ordinances required for the purchase of property for the Orchard Street extension were approved by the village board. Property on Depot Road and Main Street were purchased to complete the extension project. The Don Pittman Motors property was gifted to the village with an appraised value of $11,000.

Telephone Poll

A telephone poll is being conducted by Lakeland Newspapers in the Antioch area. Residents are being asked whether or not they would vote yes for the riverboat casino in light of the new income incentives offered by the Fox Riverboat Limited Partnership. Results from this unscientific poll will appear in the July 29 edition of the newspaper.

Senior complex fate delayed again

by TINA SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

A public hearing held at the Antioch Township hall Monday afternoon, filling nearly every chair in the building, has been continued until August 10, for the Antioch Country Inn, the proposed and unique senior housing complex off Grass Lake Road in unincorporated Antioch.

The continuance has been set for the third time so that petitioners for the not-for-profit development will have the chance to have all 12 of their experts testify, showing skeptical residents the positive aspects of the complex and also to allow concerned residents to speak out on issues surrounding the project.

The first meeting for the unusual type of senior housing, was held June 28, and continued to July 19.

Virginia Ross, owner and designer of the proposed housing development, which she calls "very specialized housing," along with her partner and expert geriatric registered nurse, Colette Dun, answered questions of audience and county zoning board members.

"There's a tremendous need for senior care in Lake County," Ross told the panel. "It's very difficult for seniors to have to move out of their houses, and into a nursing home."

Ross explained that one of the options available is a trial move into the building with family members so that they can see if they like the atmosphere first without moving permanently. The owner stressed that residents would have total freedom at the complex. The proposed group dwelling to be constructed for 120 people, is not a nursing home. "It's basically independent housing, apartment living," said Dunn.

Pat Taylor, President of the Illinois OWL (Older Women's League), and vice-president of the National OWL group, spoke to residents and Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals members in support of the center. Taylor also noted the great need for senior housing in the area. She explained that 15 years ago, senior citizens were shut-up in sheltered housing, but this isn't the case anymore. "I know how much this would enhance the life of people," Taylor said. Architect for the project, Bob McBride, also gave testimony to the panel, as well as former Lake County Regional Planning Commission director, Gerald Estes.

But several audience members spoke up with their concerns about the $5.5 million project from everything from the water table that may be lowered due to a new well for the complex, to the cutting down of trees in the wooded area. Also questioned was the future of sewers in which a pumping station would eventually have to be installed "at great expense," according to William J. Mayer, resident who lives on Channel View Drive in Antioch, on Petite Lake.

Mayer also stated his interest with the wetlands near his property. Another resident concerned with the proposed development, Marshal Bigham, who lives on Grass Lake Road, at the southeast corner of the site, told members that he is concerned that there will be no fence around the property, especially since apartment dwellers are able to walk around freely. Dunn explained that the trees around the site serve as a natural barrier for the separation of property.

"I have nothing against the senior complex," said Mayer, "but the problems it can create for us." Other residents questioned the zoning change of the property around them. Board members were unsure of the type of label it will have, if it gets approval, but the outcome seemed to point towards an "institutional" type zoning, since there is no "senior group dwelling" stated. According to county zoning member, Sheel Yajnik, two more witnesses for the petitioners are scheduled for the next meeting.

Antioch hires community development director

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Village Board announced the hiring of Claude LeMere for the newly created position of community development director. The new director will advise the village and business community in areas of economic, commercial and industrial development for the village.

The hiring of LeMere appears to be yet another step in the revitalization of downtown Antioch. LeMere will be working closely with local developmental organizations and the village in order to implement strategies outlined in the April 1993 S.B. Friedman Market Study and the Revitalization Plan.

The new position is an appointed position, paying $30,000 a year. Funding for this position will come from redevelopment funds and hotel-motel tax.

LeMere brings to the position an extensive background in community organization, commercial redevelopment, real estate, and small business ownership skills. LeMere's experience in Antioch includes volunteering as a special events chairperson for the Antioch Centennial Celebration and Chairperson of the 4th of July Committee this year.

State Park Road to close

State Park Road, Lake County Route A-17 will be closed to through traffic by the Lake County Division of Transportation on Wednesday, July 28 for three weeks while the County's contractor Skokie Valley Asphalt Co., reconstructs a portion of State Park Road. This road reconstruction is part of the State Park Road Improvement Project which includes intersection widening and traffic signals at State Park Road and Grass Lake Road.

The detour for this road closure will be U.S. Route 12 to Wilmot Road, McHenry County Route V-44, to Main Street/State Park Road, Lake/McHenry County Route A-10 as shown on the enclosed map.

Happy Birthday

Edward T. Mulcahy celebrated his 63rd birthday on July 5. As the family gathered for the holiday weekend, they also celebrated grandpa Mulcahy's birthday. Happy belated birthday, Ed, and many more to come.

Happy Anniversary

Michael and Pamela Mulcahy will be celebrating their 10th wedding anniversary on Aug. 1. Congratulations, and many years of happiness ahead.

Oops! Oops!

I would like to extend belated July birthday wishes to Dan and Bonnie Tybor of Antioch. Dan and Bonnie are truly faithful readers of "Hometown Goodies" and I can't believe I overlooked their special days. Keeping in mind the phrase "better late than never," happy July 10 birthday, Bonnie, and happy July 13 birthday, Dan. Keep reading, keep biking, keep parenting and keep on nagging me when I goof up. Hugs and hellos to Danny, Jr., Paige and Tara Lynn.

Never before

Twenty-five years, I repeat, twenty-five years living in the same waterfront home and I have never before seen swans swimming in our channel. We were recently visited by two gorgeous white swans (my husband thought they were geese) and when I noticed them I called to them while I tossed bread pieces in their direction. They quickly understood the message and swam closer to enjoy the treat. I then got out the movie camera and filmed them in order to remember their graceful beauty long after their departure. As I write this column, they still come to feed when they hear my "come-and-get-it" call. Yes, this is why I love living on the Chain O'Lakes. It gets harder and harder for me to remember my days and ways as a "city slicker."

Correction

I would like to make the following corrections concerning the results of the 1993 Miss Antioch contest. Aimee Kitto took the best swim wear recognition; the best interview went to Gina Hoerle; and Barbara Cavanaugh was given the award for the best evening gown. Sorry for the mistake, girls, and once again congratulations to everyone.

Little Miss

Our new Little Miss Antioch, Kaja Milovanovic, returned from Star power National Talent Competition in Las Vegas, Nev. weighed down with many awards. For her jazz dance performance, she received a second place silver medal and also a trophy. Her tap dancing routine produced a first place gold medal and a trophy. Kaja's next competition will be an entry into the talent competition at the Lake County Fair. Congratulations, Kaja, and continued success in future competitions.

Taste of Antioch

The "Taste of Antioch" continues for Friday and Saturday, July 23 and July 24. Ten restaurants will be on hand serving up their delicious specialties starting at 11 a.m. each day. The following entertainment will be featured at "The Taste," Echos of Time, Phaze II, Luke Hill Orchestra, Honey Bears, Ted Aliotta, Trish Schaefer, Fabulous Fish Heads, Steve Richards, The Discords, Ronald McDonald, Grease, WIIII Radio, Bingo Games and Kiddies Rides.

Maxwell Street Days

Once again the Antioch Chamber of Commerce will be sponsoring Maxwell Street Days in downtown Antioch. This annual bargain event began on July 22 and will continue Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 23, 24 and 25. Merchants will begin selling their wares on the streets at approximately 9 and 10 a.m. until 3 and 8 p.m. depending on the day. It is a great opportunity to get some back-to-school clothing at extremely reasonable prices.

Great cook

I recently read in the Reporter that Faye Anderson took the first-place reward for her Dutch Apple Pie, as part of Antioch's Fourth of July celebration pie baking contest. If you recall, Faye is the gal who does all that delicious home cooking and baking for the Anderson's enormous family reunion. I remember her telling me how much in demand her apple pie was with family members. Now it was enjoyed by the judges as well. Congratulations.

Busy lady

Well, Lois McDonna, I noticed you are keeping yourself busy with your recent installation as treasurer for the Antioch Chapter No. 387 of AARP. Congratulations. Please don't get so busy that you give up making those delicious jello molds. When you have a moment call me with the recipe of that delicious strawberry one.

Encounters

So far this year, my garage sale encounters have been few and far between. Hubby and I have not been out and about quite as much, due to his temporary change in work schedule and also many hours of overtime. However, early in the season we met up with Rudy Kubica at a local sale. It was nice seeing and chatting with JoAnne Ferenbacher as she hosted a sale in her Antioch Golf Course home. I enjoyed a brief chat with Mary Beth Walsh when we saw her leaving a nearby sale. I bet Susie Baird and little Kyle didn't see us as they backed out of a sale located on Depot Street. Last, but not least, I recently received a special hug from little Amanda Gillies when she was out scouring the sales with her mom and two sisters. Mrs. Gillies happily announced the youngest of the Gillies girls will be joining us this fall in the Camp Crayon Program. Nice seeing you all and keep on shopping those sales.

Expected arrival

Jean and Steve Davis of Antioch are expecting their fourth child in a few months. After first wishing for a healthy baby, they and their children, Nathan, Anna and Seth are putting in an order for a baby girl. Only time will tell and we will be anxiously waiting to hear about the little he or she making his/her appearance on the scene. When Marie Brausam heard the news, she teasingly told little Seth that his mommy was getting a little fatter. Seth replied, "She's not getting fat, she's getting a baby." Congratulations everyone.

Nice little people

I wanted Cindy Schaller to know she has a lot to be proud of regarding her daughter, Nicole, and son, Christopher. They recently visited for a couple of hours while in the care of my daughter, Donna. They enjoyed a swim in the pool, feeding the swans, a visit with Andrew and Bertha and a paddle boat ride. I enjoyed watching them have a good time and also enjoyed their very appreciative, polite manners. I hope they visit with Donna again and maybe next time they could bring along their little cousins, Lauren and Christine Foerster.

Youth keeps cool head in emergency on lake

Raimond Wright

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Out for a relaxing boat ride, Raimond Wright age 12, kept a cool head when the driver of an outboard motor boat was suddenly overcome by a Grand Mal seizure.

"I am really proud of him, the way he handled it," said his mother Judy Landrum who was also on the boat. Apparently, no one on the boat was aware of the driver's condition.

The driver, an unidentified friend of the family, began to shake. "Raimond seemed to know exactly what to do," said Landrum. "Raimond layed him down in the boat and protected his head while yelling to other boaters for help."

Fortunately, Annie Dodge and Robert Arnold, of Chicago, came by. Dodge boarded the boat to help out while Arnold quickly drove to a nearby home on Lake Marie. Arnold yelled to the homeowner to call the Antioch Rescue Squad and then returned to drive the boat back.

By the time Arnold returned with the stricken man, the rescue squad was already there. The man was released after it was determined that the seizure was over and there had been no injury.

Besides being proud of how her son handled himself, Landrum was very impressed with the kindness of complete strangers. "I was really amazed at how warm and caring everyone was," commented Landrum.

Raimond is a student at Stanton Junior High in Fox Lake. He is currently attending Grace Christian Camp.

Millburn board member petitions, but is undecided

by ALEC JUNGE
Lakeland Newspapers

Kathleen Fendel of the Millburn District 24 is the only current board member to take out a petition for re-election.

Fendel, vice president of the board, said she is still undecided about running for a second four-year term but wants to keep her options open.

Fendel indicated in the next four years the issues are going to be financing and handling the increased number of students as a result of growth and development.

"The issues are really how to handle the educating the children with minimal state funding and growth and development," Fendel said. Lindenhurst has approved the a 254-home project on the North end of Grass Lake Road and Old Mill Creek is ready to develop."

Fendel said she is happy with the job this board has done to date.

"I think the board president and the superintendent are doing a really good job as well as the board with the economic restraints we are under," Fendel said.

Besides Fendel, there are two other people who have taken petitions out. Petitions are the first step in the election process. Someone may pick up a petition and decide later not to be put on the ballot.

A few weeks ago an article ran about the board candidates who would be running again. Sandy O'Donnell discussed some issues and Fendel was inadvertently credited with the quotes.

Casino

the voters, therefore, they were not ignoring the "will of the people".

"Because of the new information, the board is considering a resolution expressing support for Fox Riverboat Limited Partnership," Mayor Marilyn Shineflug told the packed audience.

The riverboat developers have pledged an estimated $17 million beyond tax revenues to local governments, schools, and civic organizations. Specifically, the developers have guaranteed $750,000 a year for schools. This comes at a time when the deficit for Antioch High School is approaching $2 million.

There were numerous groups and residents opposed to the board's action at the special meeting. Furthermore, the reversal of the board's position caused a great deal of debate and disagreement between family members.

"We are against it and we are not going to be bought and sold by professional politicians," said Glen Amundsen, son of Trustee Don Amundsen. Laurie Foresta, wife of Trustee Wayne Foresta also spoke out against the riverboats.

Robert Wilton, former mayor of Antioch, also spoke out against the proposal. "If there is new information, it should go back to the voters," Wilton admonished. However, due to the anticipated hearing and decision by the gaming board, which was expected on July 20, there was simply no time to bring this issue back to the voters.

No doubt, one of the biggest disappointments is that the Illinois

Gaming Board has now delayed their decision. The Gaming Board was forced to remove the riverboat casino issue from the July 20 agenda when a newly appointed board member requested a delay in order to familiarize himself with all of the issues. With no board meeting for August scheduled, all parties are hoping the board will hold a special meeting. Otherwise, no decision will be made until September.

Festivities

One of the restaurants which will be featured at the Taste is Boardwalk Pub, which was inadvertently left out of the Maxwell Street Days booklet featured in last week's edition of the Antioch News Reporter.

Boardwalk Pub, located on Bluff Lake, has been serving up the best half-pound hamburgers and BBQ baby backribs for the past nine years. Owners Marlene and Dennis Carey and Paul and Barbara Rizzi feature entertainment on Saturday nights. On Fridays, they have an ethnic buffet, trivia contests and line dancing lessons.

At the Taste, Boardwalk Pub will serve BBQ turkey legs, corn-on-the-cob, rootbeer floats, and lemon shake-ups.

Finally, do not miss the opportunity to shop the many bargains offered at Maxwell Street Days. Area merchants are offering their wares at substantial savings.

Best of all, everything is happening just around the corner. Stop by to see Antioch at its best!

Letters to the Editor

Hasty vote

Editor:

I was at the emergency Antioch Village Board meeting on July 15, when the board decided to overturn the first resolution to stand by the voice of the majority of voters.

I understand that as a board they must do what they feel in their hearts, souls and minds is the right thing, however I feel they made a decision based on haste.

Now that the gaming board has postponed their meeting until August, perhaps the board could use this opportunity to conduct a phone poll and find out if indeed the money would change the peoples vote.

I'm not saying what they did was wrong, just hasty. People of Antioch I implore you to write to your mayor, sign your name and voters precinct number, let them know if they really are speaking for the majority. I feel this would be a good way to ease the tension that has risen amongst all who live here.

Vandals hit Centennial Park

by TINA SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

What do "Raising Cain" and a "Barn Raising" have in common? Unfortunately both occurred at Centennial Park.

Over the weekend, four arrests were made at the park for damage to property, criminal trespassing and the unlawful drinking of minors, according to Antioch Police Lt. Charles Watkins. And police want it to stop. Watkins said that similar problems have been going on since schools have been out for the season.

In the month of May, the one-acre creation was built by the loving hands of volunteers in the community, who labored hard for five long days to get the castle-like, kid-designed playground ready for children to swing, slide and just have plain old fun in.

Volunteers, of the village park, a total of 2,000 of them, came from all over, but many of them live right next door. And when something awful happens to the good things they've done, it hurts, explained Watkins. "They live near it, they have built it, and it's their baby," said Lt. Watkins.

But the bad boys (and girls) of summer have come out, it seems, to do a little damage, and/or to get out their hot-weather frustrations. Watkins said that he gets youth in the police department all the time that complain "There's nothing to do around here." Build a park, and tear it down? I'm sure that the Lt. would agree that that's not the answer. "Park Closes at Dusk" signs are clearly visible. "We've got signs like this all around the park and yet kids insist on coming here to party," said Watkins.

Watkins said the Antioch department is increasing patrols, and encouraging people to notify the police if anything peculiar occurs. The police in town aren't going to fool around, according to Watkins. "We plan on taking immediate action."

First Chicago sponsors dinos

First Chicago Bank/Antioch is helping its community celebrate Taste of Antioch through a variety of special activities, including a visit with a lovable purple dinosaur.

Antioch youngsters are invited to participate in a bank-sponsored coloring contest of a dino of another sort—a Tyrannosaurus Rex. Coloring sheets are available at the bank, 425 Lake St., Jewel Food Store and Antioch Schwinn Cyclery.

They should label their entries with their name, address, age and phone number, and bring them to the First Chicago Bank-Antioch Bankmobile at the Taste of Antioch from 9 to 11 a.m. Saturday, July 24. While there, children will have a chance to shake hands with the bank's purple dinosaur.

During the week of July 26, three names will be drawn at random to win three prizes, including the grand prize, a new Schwinn bike (courtesy of the bank and Antioch Schwinn Cyclery); a year's supply (or one case) of Flintstones Cereal (courtesy of Jewel Food Store in Antioch); and a First Chicago Bank T-shirt, water bottle, bank and coloring book.

Also in celebration of Taste of Antioch, the bank will sponsor the appearance of the "Grease Band" at 8 p.m. Saturday, July 24, at the Taste.

ANTIOCH Smoking pipe

Antioch police reported last week that a black stone "pot" pipe that was still burning, and holding a residue with suspected cannabis, was found under a woman's bed by her father, although the suspect had apparently not lived at home since July 8, according to reports.

The complainant who resides on Maplewood Drive in Antioch told police that he found a pipe still "burning" under the bed of his 19 year old daughter, and he asked police to dispose of it.

The Antioch Sgt. who responded to the call, collected the item and placed it as evidence.

Police reported that on July 17, "substantial damage" occurred to a Pepsi Cola machine located in the Centennial Community Park on 601 Anita Drive in Antioch, after two men kicked and turned it over at approximately 3 a.m.

Timothy Presley, 18 of 40319 N. Fox, Antioch, and Aaren M. Casey of 130 Rose Tree Lane, Lindenhurst, 19, were arrested and charged with criminal damage to property and land, and the consumption of alcohol as a minor, after they were chased through a wooded area next to the park, and found by police.

Then approximately one hour later, according to police reports, two more arrests were made at the park, with charges for criminal trespassing and the consumption of alcohol as minors.

Police reported that on July 17, they received a call at 4 a.m. from an area resident who heard the subjects making "a lot of noise" at the park.

Gerald Hanrahan, 18 of Lindenhurst, and Mark Plonka, 19 of Antioch were both released on recognizance bonds.

Domestic battery

Antioch police reported on July 17 at 3:45 a.m. that an area woman was arrested for battery after she apparently punched her former boyfriend's current girlfriend in the nose, according to reports.

A 21-year-old Antioch woman was arrested after a domestic dispute arose on the 700 block of Main Street in Antioch, after she allegedly saw her past boyfriend and another woman moving their clothes out of an apartment, reports said.

Disturbance

Police reported on July 18, at 2:15 a.m., a man was arrested for causing a disturbance in the Regency Hotel at 350 Rte. 173 in Antioch, after they received several phone calls.

According to reports, William Sigel, 20, of Chicago, had a room at the hotel, was intoxicated, and was knocking on doors to the rooms of other guests in the building. Antioch police went to the hotel once, and the man apologized, said police, and told them he was going to bed. The man apparently did not go to sleep, but continued knocking on doors, police said, and five minutes later he was arrested.

Domestic battery

Police reported on July 18, at approximately 11:30 p.m., an Antioch man was arrested on domestic battery charges after police found a woman at her home beat up with a bloody nose. The woman was able to phone the police emergency number 911, said reports, but then was disconnected after the man apparently tore the phone out of the wall.

Because of the village's new 911 system, the dispatcher was able to screen the name, address and phone number of the woman even after her phone was out of the wall, said police. After police arrived, a 32-year-old Antioch man, was arrested for battery, and the woman was transported to the hospital for treatment.

Landfill clean-up proceeds

by TINA SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

The state of Illinois has approximately 40 landfills that are currently under investigation by the USEPA, for possible toxic contamination, and the village of Antioch has one of them.

Tuesday night Fredrick Micke, civil engineer with the USEPA, along with Toxicologist Valeri DeCastro from the Illinois Department of Public Health, held a meeting at the Antioch village hall, in order to answer any questions on the EPA's ongoing cleanup at the H.O.D. Landfill site in the village. According to reports, Waste Management of Illinois, a company potentially liable for the contamination, began a Remedial Investigation (RI) April 5, which is expected to continue through June of 1994.

Superfund, the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act or (CERCLA), is a federal program which provides for the investigation and remediation of hazardous waste sites throughout the United States.

The east side of the village of Antioch, which houses the questionable landfill, is situated to the north of Sequoia Creek, just east of McMillen Road. The landfill property covers 80 acres, but the actual landfill covers 51 acres, according to the EPA. To the east of the site, lie scattered residences. Agricultural land and undeveloped land are located to the north. Sequoia Creek, which flows into a series of lakes used by many for recreation, borders around the landfill's south and west sides.

According to EPA Engineer, Micke, the landfill operations occurred in two different areas. The "old" landfill area operated on approximately 24-acres of land between 1963 and 1984 and the "new" landfill area began operations in 1975 on approximately 27-acres until all landfill operations ceased in 1984. Total amount of the combined municipal and industrial wastes, that were disposed of, including liquid and organic, are unknown, according to Micke.

In 1982, H.O.D. asked for an expansion on the landfill, but were denied, said Micke. Then in 1984, they were shut down completely, and in 1985 the site was initially proposed for the Superfund National Priorities List (NPL).

The goal for the USEPA, is to assess the extent of contamination within the landfill and outside the landfill boundaries.

Micke told the audience that the EPA will collect water, sediment, groundwater, and soil samples on and off the landfill property. Leachate (liquids that may have been disposed of in the landfill and liquids produced during the decomposition of waste) and landfill gas samples will also be collected. "Once those lab results get back to us, we will analyze those results," said Micke. The engineer noted the slight possibility of cancer and various other diseases that could come from certain types of toxic waste.

Micke said that there is a one in a million chance of getting anything like that though. One woman spoke up and said, "The truth is, we really don't know (what can be contracted). The fact is, it does release gas and there is no odor. We don't know the risks with breathing the air over garbage dumps."

Apparently, at one time, testing was done to one of the village wells, with positive results. Upon re-testing though, said Micke, the tests came back clear. But the EPA engineer did note vinyl chloride, and another chemical called TCE (commonly found in cleaning solutions) were traced during some soil testing, but he added that it can't be proven that the chemicals came from the landfill dumping. "It's only an educated guess," said Micke.

Micke noted that the field work testing will be done sometime in August, and then the risk assessment phase for the site will begin in early 1994, and hopefully have all testing completed by the end of that year, or early 1995.

Patience waning

Stubbornness of North Chicago school officials frustrates legislators helping financially troubled district.

There are signs that officialdom is losing its patience with the majority of the North Chicago public schools board of education that is stubbornly resolute in a decision to dissolve the district which has a history of financial problems and incompetent management.

That message was sent by State Reps. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa), Andrea Moore (R-Libertyville) and Virginia Fiester Frederick (R-Lake Forest) along with delivery of $1.4 million in additional state aid.

Frederick, a former educator and a model of sympathy and restraint, put the position of legislators in the sharpest focus when she commented in typically understated fashion that the North Chicago school leaders should bring their "legalistic maneuvering" to a halt. Churchill was more direct, calling for the board of education to drop dissolution proceedings and "save everyone a lot of money in legal fees." These are strong words.

At the same time, the legislators offered promises of more state money and held out the possibility of additional help for the cash-short district from the federal government.

Five surrounding school systems, which would have to absorb 4,300 North Chicago students that would be dispersed if the dissolution becomes reality, are poised to put up a stiff legal battle. Unless the board majority relents, officials of Woodland Dist. 50, Libertyville High School, Lake Forest High School, Oak Grove Elementary and Lake Bluff Elementary vow to push their opposition to the limit.

In the heated debate over the North Chicago school funding morass, little attention has been given to the fact that the board majority acted against the wishes of a substantial number of citizens who want to keep their school open. It would be helpful to all if the supporters in North Chicago of local schools would step forward with new leadership. That may happen, indeed, with board of education elections coming up this fall.

It would also be worthwhile for the school board majority to pay some attention to the feelings of the frightened students who are uncertain about where they will be going to school in the future.

Sharing is profitable

Inter-governmental cooperation pays big dividends.

One of the disadvantages of Illinois' multi-layered system of local government is the problem of wasteful duplication of services and counter-productive competition between elected bodies.

There always is the risk of "me first" officials overbalancing the general welfare in the race for preeminence. This locality has had more than its share of classic inter-governmental warfare---Libertyville vs. Mundelein, Lake Zurich vs. Kildeer, Lindenhurst vs. Lake Villa, Gurnee battling the North Shore Sanitary Dist., and lately the North Chicago Unit School Dist. fighting everybody. Why can't neighboring governments get along?

The fact is that sometimes governments do work together and when this happens the results usually are beautiful music to the ears of taxpayers. That is the case where the Grayslake park and library boards have forged an agreement to jointly construct a shared facility in Central Park. Each unit will have half the building, but they will share such areas as the lobby, washrooms, parking, meeting rooms and utilities. Voters will be asked to put their stamp of approval on the cooperative building plan in joint November referendums.

One of the best features of the plan is that if approved the library will be able to get out of cramped quarters in a store building on Grayslake's main business street, no location for a public building in the first place. A new home will enable the library to "catch up" with other library districts like Vernon, Lake Villa, Antioch, Wauconda, Lake Zurich and Warren-Newport, all of which have built state-of-the-art facilities in the last 20 years while Grayslake was trying to keep abreast in a former furniture store.

The benefits of inter-governmental cooperation are boundless. It's a shame there aren't more projects where elected officials are working together for the good of all.

Bilingual risk great; let's support English

by VIRGINIA PARK

As some of you may know, "Making English Our Official Language" has been a cause dear to my heart for many years.

This is not an unusual goal at all. Many countries the world over have designated a certain language the "official" one for their nation, especially when there are several dialects or even tongues spoken in the region.

This idea of making English the official language of the United States was formalized in 1938 by Senator S.I. Hayakawa, who foresaw a real problem in the offing. He founded a national non-profit, non-partisan organization called U.S. English.

On the Advisory Board of this organization we see the names of many prominent people from differing backgrounds. Among them are: Saul Bellow, Alistair Cooke, Senator Barry Goldwater, Charlton Heston, Senator Eugene McCarthy, Mrs. Eugene Ormandy, Arnold Schwarzenegger, W. Clement Stone.

In the book Our Marvelous Native Tongue by Robert Claiborne, we find many interesting and important facts. English is the native tongue of over "300,000,000 people, largest speech community in the world, except for Mandarin Chinese. Even more remarkable is its geographic spread, in which it is second to none..."

"English is also by far the most important 'second language' in the world...spoken by millions of educated Europeans and Japanese, is the most widely studied foreign tongue in both the USSR and China, and serves as an 'official' language in more than a dozen other countries whose populations total more than a billion."

English has supplanted German in the scientific community and, of course, all airports, air line pilots and controllers operate worldwide only in English.

Why, then, do we have 75 people participating in their swearing-in ceremony as new U.S. citizens on July 2 in Tucson, Arizona, using a foreign language???

Prospective citizens have to "be permanent resident for five years, have good moral character and demonstrate knowledge of U.S. history and government. New citizens also must be able to read, write and speak in English," so why was the ceremony conducted in Spanish? The oath was given in English, (what a concession!) but even the Pledge of Allegiance was in a foreign tongue.

To some this might almost seem a sacrilege.

Judge Alfredo C. Marquez presided over it, saying, "We are here to do everything to make these people happy."

After being here for five years, surely these new citizens must know that proficiency in English will enable them to be far more successful in their new country than having to live in a system within a system.

Commentary

We have close at hand the example of what is happening in bilingual Canada. Is there any plausible reason why the Hispanics among us object to using the language of their adopted country as others have done? They are the only group which has presumed to demand to use their own language.

There are now 18 states which have declared English as an "official language." Illinois is one of them. There were 19, but Arizona recently rescinded this law, and you can see the result mentioned above.

In the 103rd Congress now in session, a bill (HR 123, S 426) has been introduced which designates English as the common official language of the U.S. government, used to declare policies, to write laws and regulations and to make and enforce official acts.

There is also an Incentive for Employer-provided Educational Assistance Act (HR 124) proposed which will provide a tax credit for employers who provide English language instruction to their employees. (This is already being done by many forward looking companies.)

And if you should feel like really helping, send a contribution to U.S. English, Inc., which has been so faithful in promoting this cause. They are at 818 Connecticut Avenue, NW Washington, D.C., 20006, and they really need all the help they can get.

Chicago keeps sending bogus parking notices

by BILL SCHROEDER

Ruth Merriman remembers May 29, 1987, well. That was the date she attended a family reunion in downstate Bloomington.

So the Wauconda grandmother was no where near Chicago.

Still, the City of Chicago keeps dunning Merriman for a parking violation that date. Chicago made Merriman aware of her erstwhile "violation" with an ominous sounding "Parking Ticket Enforcement Notice" Aug. 17, 1991. Since then she has received four other notices warning her to pay $10, the latest one coming June 29, this year, and now increased to $20.

Trained as a secretary, Merriman keeps careful records of the correspondence and her replies, always being patient to explain that she was not in Chicago on the 1987 date and that she has witnesses to prove it.

Merriman was among readers who have come forward at the request of this column to relate experiences with Chicago's famed parking ticket, er, "program," aimed at motorists who were not in the city on the specified date.

A daughter-in-law who also was in Bloomington for the family get-together also received a notice for a parking "violation" on the 1987 date. She sent the city a check rather than face more correspondence. "I wonder how many others send in a check?" Merriman wondered.

Where and how does the City of Chicago pick recipients for the bogus parking tickets? Who receives money sent in? How much is collected in the "enforcement program?" How long has the "program" been in operation? Interesting questions. If you've ever received a bogus parking violation notice from the City of Chicago, tell us your story.

FAST LEARNERS--- Young people in the Navy's Sea Cadet training at Great Lakes Naval Training Center learn military ways quickly during their two-week stay. When Fred D. Carl, national chairman, addressing nearly 500 boys and girls at their graduation review, asked them to stand at ease, not a muscle moved. Sensing a problem, Rear Adm. Mack C. Gaston, Great Lakes commander and reviewing officer, stepped forward with a grin and intoned into the microphone, "Sea Cadets, at ease." A single step of compliance echoed through the mammoth drill hall.

WET AND DRY---Our southern Illinois correspondent reported a climate oddity. Before flooding struck Mississippi River lowland areas, vast farming areas were experiencing a protracted drought. Even in flooded sectors, that part of the countryside not under water is parched. "It's crazy," the observer declared. Lakeland Newspapers will be getting some first-hand flood reports from Tom Stevens, an Illinois Guardsman and one of our regular reporters, who has been activated for flood duty in East St. Louis.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY---Callie and Thedog are leaving no doubt about their favorite exercise territory. It's the forest preserve. Not only are the groomed trails easy underfoot, there are no caged "man eaters" lunging at fences, frightening well behaved dogs out for a walk and the two people on the ends of their leashes. Pop swears that every other house in the neighborhood harbors a hungry canine, whose goal in life is to attack and devour family pets.

Brunch in Barrington targets needs of GOP

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers political column, is prepared from staff reports.

Republican leaders in the Illinois House rated a fund-raising brunch at Barrington Hills County Club an unqualified success.

Minority Leader Lee Daniels, keynote speaker, outlined a 1994 election scenario where "just a few more" Republican votes in nine districts around the state would swing the House into the GOP column.

Besides "just a few more" votes, the Grand Old Party will need more financial support for legislative battles, Daniels intoned. A start in that direction was made by the brunchers who paid $100 each to attend.

The battle plan currently before Republican strategists targets the nine "must win" seats, including one now held by State Rep. Lauren Beth Gash (D-Highland Park).

"Those nine districts should be in the Republican column. The majority of the voters are Republican. With more effort—and more money—intentions are to make that happen next year," Daniels told the Party Lines reporter.

The Barrington location, by the way, wasn't by happenstance, according to State Rep. Cal Skinner (R-Crystal Lake). Barrington Republicans support national causes, it seems, and now party leaders want to acquaint them with state and local issues.

Artistic Arlene—Mrs. Arlene Crane, wife of Congressman Philip M. Crane (R-Ill.), was first place in the "Art By You" contest at Corcoran Gallery of Art in Washington with a water color portrait of Martha Washington. Mrs. Crane's art background includes studies at the Chicago Art Institute and Academy of Fire Arts in Chicago. Congressman Crane also was a finalist in the competition with a water color of George Washington.

Foe of Family—Members of Lake County Right to Life are taking State Rep. Andrea Moore (R-Libertyville) to task for a last minute bill on parental notice of abortion that they say undermines the family and gives Moore "zero credibility" with their organization. Right to Life said Moore's 24 hour time limit could be twisted to be one hour before the abortion or one minute.

Protection—The Illinois General Assembly approved a bill sponsored by Sen. David N. Barkhausen (R-Lake Bluff) permitting law enforcement officers to wear eavesdropped devices without a court order when one of them is doing undercover work. The Barkhausen bill reasons that the wire will enable fellow officers to respond if the agent is in trouble.

Party split—There seems to be trouble around every corner in the Village of Kildeer, especially when the trustees get together for a meeting.

Village President Barbara Schwieter, who came to power as head of the Preservation Party, called for a committee of the whole meeting, July 12 to discuss the minutes taken during the board's regular June 7 meeting, committee of the whole meeting June 17 and a special meeting June 21.

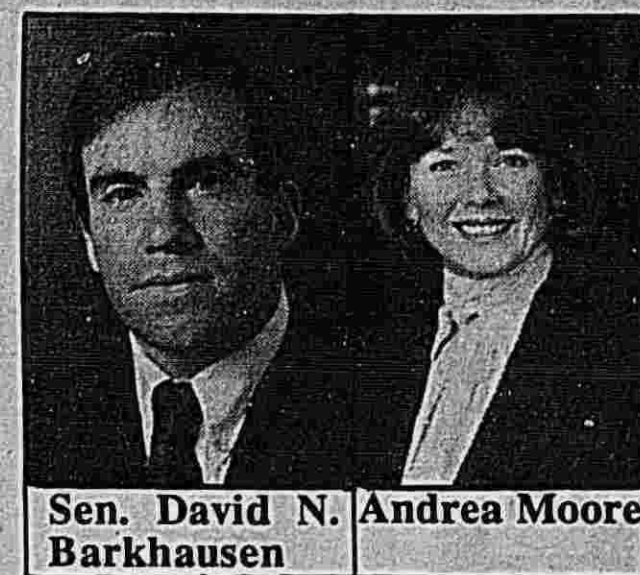

Schwieter said the minutes taken by Village Clerk Sheryl Good were just transcriptions taken verbatim from the tapes, rather than actual minutes, which "is not typical."

Trustee Todd Swim thought the minutes may be more accurate this way, and said it was a waste of time to hold the separate meeting.

"This village has very important issues to discuss," Swim said.

Fellow Trustee William Pailey Jr. agreed with Swim, but added there were several mistakes regarding incorrect motions.

After 30 minutes of discussion,

Sen. David N. Barkhausen and Andrea Moore

Schwieter had to break a 3-3 tie to approve the consent agenda without the minutes. The three Preservation Party members, Swim, James Batts and Terry Albert, voted no.

No corn fest—The annual Republican Club Corn Fest hosted by Howard Beize and family on his farm has been canceled for this summer.

Beize noting the poor growing weather and the non-election year said the decision is not politically motivated.

"It's simply time to take a vacation," he said. "My wife and I have been doing this for nearly 20 years. We thought it would be nice to have a year off."

Beize promises the festival will be back on next summer, weather cooperating.

Letter to the Editor

Two Bobs deserve credit

Editor:

There was a very nice editorial regarding the recently adopted Adopt-A-Highway program in Lake County. While it is true that I am chairman of the Public Service Committee, which is the committee which passed the proposed program to the County Board, and it is true that I firmly supported the program, I must decline to take credit which is not due.

The program was passed with unanimous support. It really originated when Bob Depke, County Board chairman, learned it was again being discussed in Springfield. He informed Marty Buehler (of the County Department of Transportation) to be "on the lookout" for action in Springfield which might allow us to do such a program. Then, during the months between that time and the date the County Board took final action approving the program, Bob Neal, the County Commissioner from Wadsworth, took exceptional interest in the progress of the program as it was being put together by our staff. Neal regularly questioned progress and encouraged a timely delivery of the program to the County Board for action.

While I appreciate the article, and the recognition for the Public Service Committee, I must point out that Bob Depke and Bob Neal are the ones who should be singled out for an "extra effort" award on this program.

Colin L. McRae
Public Service, Chairman
Lake County Board, Dist. 10

Bernhardt's brings home the cake in five places

For more than 23 years, Lake County residents have eaten Bernhardt's Bakery cakes and pastries, yet many may not of know that they were baked right in their backyard.

The Bernhardt's in Libertyville used to be the baking headquarters for four Bernhardt's stores until Jeffrey A.

Lakeland Newspapers

Lovinger, Bernhardt's president, moved the production facilities to Gurnee one and one-half years ago.

"We were busting at the seams over there," Lovinger said. While, the Libertyville facility had 2,800 square-feet of workspace, their new facility boasts a whopping 6,000 sq.-ft. with room for expansion.

Lovinger, who bought the bakery five years ago, said there has been a bakery for more than 50 years in Libertyville at 536 N. Milwaukee Ave., changing hands a few times until it became Bernhardt's 23 years ago.

The bakery locations in Antioch, 775 Main St., Waukegan, 1550 Grand Ave., and in Montgomery Wards at Lakehurst Mall followed, Lovinger said.

He said the move was necessary to modernize their production facilities to give customers the freshest possible product.

Currently, they make between 200 and 300 cakes per week, which Lovinger said is their specialty, but that number goes up dramatically during any holiday.

"Any holiday is busy for the bakery business," he said.

They churned out 500 cakes in just one weekend in June to meet the demand for graduation, and routinely bake more during the period between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

While Lovinger did not have hands on bakery experience, he said he "had an interest in the business" and thought he could expand it.

"I always wanted to own my own business," he said.

Besides making all of the goods sold at the Bernhardt's locations, Lovinger said they also sell their cakes and sweet rolls to more than 100 businesses, including White Hen Pantries, convenient stores and hotels, and make up gift items for clients and potential clients.

He said sales representatives use Bernhardt's products, such as butter cookies, cakes or fudge, as an introduction or thank you note for their clients, which gives them an extra edge.

They also make a lot of specialty cakes for businesses in the shape of their logo or a form related to the type of business, such as a computer.

Lovinger said they once made a cake for former Bears head coach Mike Ditka for his wife, Diana, when he was still with the team.

The largest cake they ever made served 1,000 people.

The bakery whips up many cakes for weddings and anniversaries, and sometimes get invited to stay at parties where they have made deliveries.

"We have a lot of fun with our customers," he said.

With a production staff comprised of 13 full-time and four part-time employees, Bernhardt's works around the clock, with deliveries beginning at 11 p.m. and lasting for 11 or 12 hours. (Continued on page 16)

Tax relief available from IRS for flood victims

Residents who suffered flood damage may be able to get some quick cash back from the IRS by amending their 1992 tax return.

The counties affected include Lake and McHenry as well as 18 others that were declared federal disaster areas by President Bill Clinton.

Flood victims may qualify for certain types of federal assistance, including claiming a casualty loss on an individual tax return. Residents can choose to deduct the casualty loss on the 1993 return which is due next year, or amend the 1992 tax return just filed with the IRS. Filing the amended return (Form 1040X) provides immediate relief.

Residents who have not yet filed their 1992 return due to an extension to file, should include the casualty loss when they complete the return. An additional extension may also be granted.

Many Illinois farmers are also affected by the floods. Damage to crops, whether or not covered by insurance, is not a deductible loss. These damages are losses of anticipated income. The costs of raising damaged crops are deductible as business expenses.

Audits/collections postponed

The IRS will be suspending normal audit and collection actions on those affected by the flood. The IRS will not start any new audits, and affected taxpayers currently being audited will be given additional time to respond to any requests for information.

Collection activity is also being postponed. The IRS will not initiate any tax liens or levies on bank accounts or wages involving residents in the disaster area. If you receive a notice that may have already been in the mail prior to now, you should contact the IRS to receive more time.

Expediting disaster claims

Residents should follow these steps to expedite the processing of the disaster claim filed on an original or amended 1992 return:

- Write "Disaster Area" and the name of the county where you live at the top of the first page of the return.

- Attach a statement showing the disaster dates and the exact location of damaged property, including the street address, city, county and state.

- Mail your return to the Internal Revenue Service, P.O. Box 24501, Kansas City, Mo. 64131.

Where to get help

Residents who need a copy of their 1992 tax return to complete an amended return should file Form 4506, "Request for Copy of Tax Form." The photocopy fee normally charged will be waived by writing "Disaster Area—Photocopy Fee Waived" at the top of the form. It usually takes about 45 days to get a copy of a return.

Instead of waiting to get a copy of your return, IRS employees now have on-line computer access to certain tax account information you may need by calling 1-800-829-1040 or by visiting the local IRS office.

Additional information on how to claim disaster area losses can be found in IRS Publication 547, "Nonbusiness Disasters, Casualties and Thefts," available by calling 1-800-829-3676, toll free.

Walk-in assistance is available at all IRS offices, including Davenport, Rockford, Schaumburg and Vernon Hills, which are closest to the affected counties.

Mortgage shopping must for the first-time buyer

As mortgage rates remain at nearly 20 year lows, first-time buyers are again expected to proliferate the housing market. But before agreeing to mortgage terms, real estate professionals are recommending that first-time buyers carefully weigh the different types of available mortgages.

"The difference between a fixed and variable interest rate is the first thing to consider when choosing a home loan," said M.J. Seiler, broker/co-owner, of Century 21 Kreuser and Seiler, Libertyville.

According to Seiler, a fixed-mortgage sets interest at the same rate for the life of the loan, but a variable rate changes on an interim basis, as national interest rates fluctuate. "Depending on the economic environment and the amount of time you plan to carry the loan, choosing between these two types of loans can make a big difference financially," said Seiler.

Even though it seems logical that a fixed-rate would be best during a time of low interest rates, several variable rate loans can offer maximum cap and payment advantages that could save consumers money. For this reason, consumers should always consult a lender before deciding which type of loan to use.

Adjustable Rate Mortgages are currently the most popular rate loans, and they are a good option for those with a transient lifestyle. ARMs offer a low interest rate, usually lower than the market average, at first, then the interest rate fluctuates with the market after a pre-designed period of time—usually a few years.

If a "fixed" rate mortgage is selected, there are several time periods of payment to choose from, such as 10, 15, 25 or 30 years—the latter being the most popular. The shorter the period of a fixed loan, the less time it takes to build equity. "If you plan on staying in your home for more than a few years and can afford higher payments, consider opting for the shorter term mortgage," said Seiler. "Actually, it may not be as expensive as many potential homeowners might believe."

Seiler explained that the monthly payments for a 15 year fixed rate mortgage are usually around 20 percent higher than those for a 30 year mortgage. That's not bad if you consider that you will cut the time it takes to fully own your home in half. The shorter-term loans may carry slightly higher interest rates or require more points or higher standards for approval.

Many factors can affect a consumer's decision—job security, confidence in the economy, income, and estimated length of stay in a new home. Consumers should consider all the available options and work closely with a lender and a real estate agent to calculate the best, informed choice for the future.

Bakery

"We are a full-time bakery," he said, adding they do their own distribution and selling of their products.

Depending upon the season, Lovinger said they could employ up to 10 part-time workers in Gurnee. They employ 16 other people who work at the bakery's four locations.

Although Bernhardt's main bakery is hundreds of miles away from the flooded Midwestern farms, Lovinger said he expects to see an increase in the ingredients they buy, because they use a lot of flour, which comes from wheat, and soybeans and soybean oil, which are two Midwestern farm staples.

"The farmers have to make it up and you can't blame them," he said.

Besides cakes, they also make many different varieties of bread, rolls, cookies and pastries.

Preservation of culture

Native American artifacts, rare and fascinating, tell a tale of the earliest residents of Lake County. Fortunately, a federal museum grant will help the Lake County Museum preserve some artifacts that go back to the 1860s.

The $4,000 grant from the Institute of Museum Services will enable the museum to store and mount artifacts so the public may see them.

The artifacts come from mostly Plains and Woodland Indian culture from the about the 1860s up to 1950, according to Elizabeth Marston, curator of collections at the museum. She said about 75 percent of the artifacts pre-date World War I.

by ALEC JUNG

The task of getting the artifacts mounted can be quite a challenge. Great care is given to insure the items are set up properly so they are not damaged. The museum had expert Christine Del Rey assist them with how to mount the items and Hans Gill, the exhibit designer is making the mounts.

"We have to make sure we're not touching anything," said Marston. "We have to be careful to not put stress on the fibers when we hold them up."

"We have two-inch thick blocks of ethafoam. He took the measurement, cut out the blocks sometimes several times to make it the appropriate height. He carved out edges where things had to rest."

There are over 150 different artifacts in the collection. The different items include: a war bonnet, a horse saddle, a bridal wreath, a pipe bag, pipes, a lizard fetish and ceremonial tools.

Stacey Dyne, an intern, said the material of the fabric is a good indication of the time period involved. She said towards the twentieth century Native Americans adapted some of their styles to sell to the settlers.

"It was common for Indians to sell some of their products at the trading posts as early as the 1870s," Dyne said. "The cross in the fabric is a dead giveaway the item is newer."

"The smoking of the pipe represented lots of spiritual beliefs. The pipe is made of colonite paper and, with a red bottom, they are considered sacred pipes," Dyne said.

The bridal wreath was part of many items from the collection which are ceremonial objects.

"The wreath was used on horses on ceremonial days. It has some western leather woven in with their own decorations," Dyne said.

Some items have a mixture of old and new fabrics that indicate they were passed from generation to generation. Dyne took out an item with older fabric but it had felt added on to it.

A main way of telling the difference between the Plains and the Woodland Indians is Plains items generally have a geometric design and Woodland objects are more flowery, according to Dyne.

The Native American tribes who are represented by the collection include the Sioux, Potawatomi, Chippewa and Winnebago.

The collection has been in the museum's possession since 1950 from the Lake County Museum of History in Wadsworth.

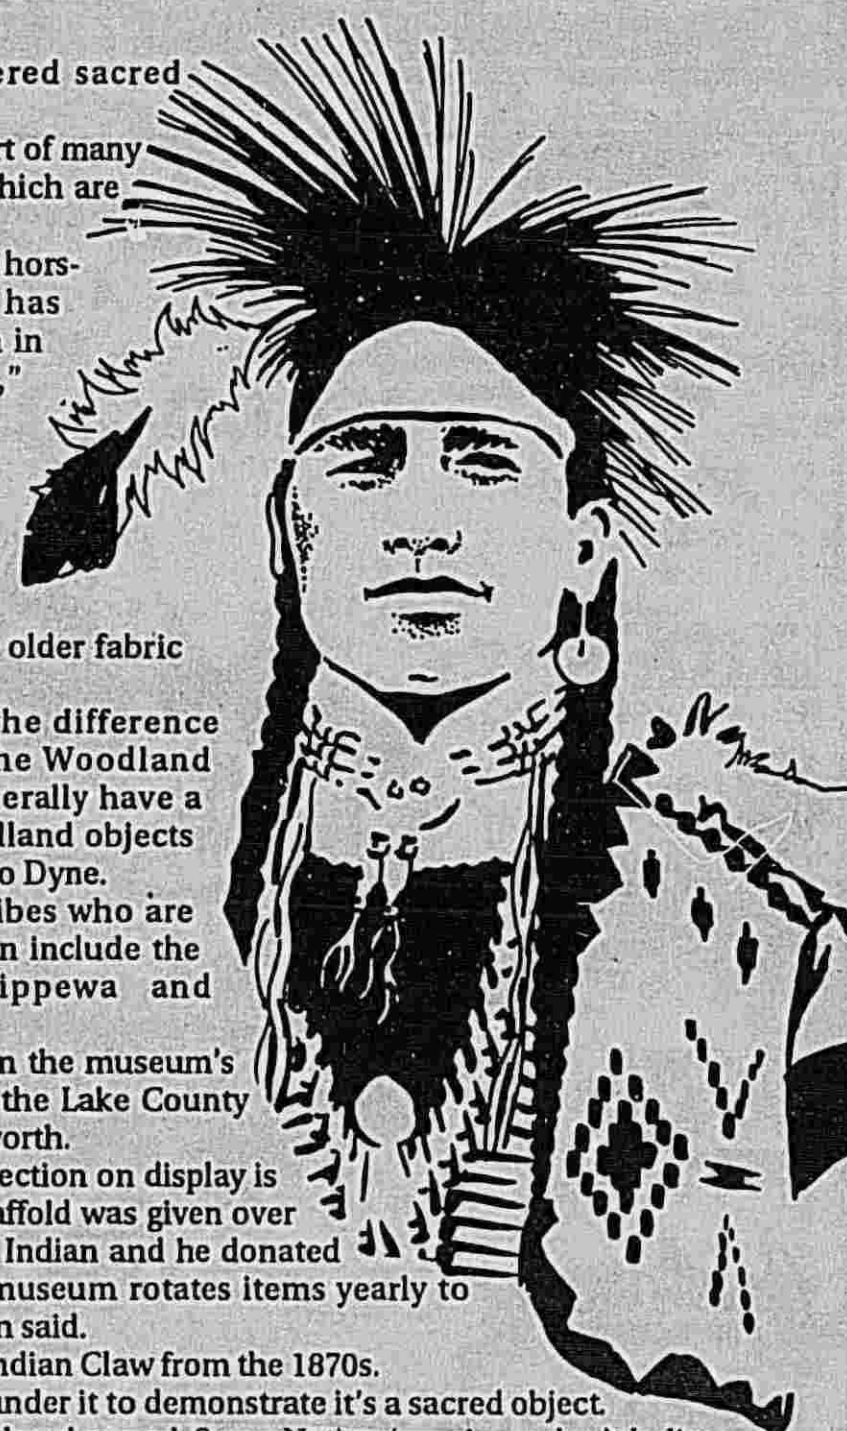

Part of the museum's collection on display is the Saffold collection. Dan Saffold was given over 20 items from a Potawatomi Indian and he donated them to the museum. The museum rotates items yearly to keep them protected, Marston said.

In display this year is an Indian Claw from the 1870s.

The claw has a piece of sage under it to demonstrate it's a sacred object.

"The Indian Claw is considered sacred. Some Native Americans don't believe sacred objects should be on display. After consultation with several Native American groups, they said it would be acceptable to display it if the sage was underneath it," Dyne said.

For more information about the collection, call Marston at 526-7878.

A Visit to Hawaii Must Include Pearl Harbor

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

December 7, 1941, is a date forever etched in the minds of most Americans. At one minute before 8 a.m., a battle began which left 3,581 Americans dead or wounded and sent 6 of our country's mightiest ships to the bottom of Pearl Harbor.

One of those ships, the USS Arizona, became the final resting place for 1,100 of her crew.

A memorial has been built across the Arizona to honor those still entombed in the sunken hull below. That shrine is visited by thousands of Americans, including many survivors of the battle marking the U.S. entry into World War II.

If you are planning a trip to Hawaii, you may wish to visit the Arizona Memorial. You will find many tours offering such a visit. However, the only boat allowed to dock at the memorial is operated by the Navy. That shuttle, as well as entrance to the memorial and the visitor center, is free.

If you have rented a car, take Rte. 99 to the entrance to Pearl Harbor along Rte. 99 about a mile south of Aloha Stadium. The parking area for the Arizona Memorial boat shuttle is well marked.

You can also take "TheBus" (literally the name of Hawaii's transit system) nos. 50, 51 and 52 from the Ala Moana Shopping Center to within walking distance of the entrance.

A more convenient alternative for getting to the shuttle dock is the Arizona Memorial Shuttle Bus, a private operation which will pick you up at your hotel and take you to the dock for $2.50 one way. Reservations are needed. Call them in Honolulu at 926-4747. No reservation is required for the return trip. Just get your ticket from Gloria, the lady under the green umbrella in the parking lot.

The memorial is open daily, except Monday, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., though I would suggest getting there no later than 9:30 a.m. to avoid a long wait. The shuttle boats won't sail if the waves are too rough, so call ahead. In Honolulu call 422-0561.

Classic fairytale returns to MarriottCritic's Choice

"Sleeping Beauty," a classic fairy tale, is deftly revised and updated by Valerie Carlson and Dyanne Earley at Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre for Young Audiences.

With music by Dave Siegel, this 75-minute production features a cast of 10, many in multiple roles.

Purists can breathe easy: Enough of the basic story remains untouched. A lovely young princess falls under the spell of a wicked witch after pricking her finger on a rose thorn. And only the kiss from a prince can awaken the slumbering maiden.

In this adaptation, Sleeping Beauty's royal parents are dotty, especially her absent-minded father. Two daffy guards, appointed by the bad witch, put on quite a show as keepers of the gate to keep all comers away from Sleeping Beauty.

And the Handsome Prince (Stephen Buntrock) is joined by his Ordinary Brother (Guy Adkins) in the pursuit of Sleeping Beauty.

Among the obstacles the twin princes encounter are a smoke-blowing dragon and a quizmaster garlanded with tiny blinking lights.

Elizabeth Gelman commands as Grizelda, the mean witch. She and Jamie Dawn Gangi, as Sleeping Beauty, are crowd pleasers.

"Sleeping Beauty" runs through Aug. 14. Shows are Wednesdays through Fridays at 10 a.m. and Saturdays at 11 a.m. Tickets are $4. For further information call 634-0200.—by TOM WITOM

Kim Kalla's dancers are winners in Vegas

The "Star Power National Finals" proved to be a winning competition for the star dancers from Kim Kalla's Studio of Dance in Lake Villa, who brought home over a dozen first- and second-place trophies two weeks ago, at the event which never lacks, "lots of action, lots of competition," according to Kalla herself.

The annual event in which the studio's best dancers compete in, was held in Las Vegas, Nevada and all of the 40 young women and girls that participated got at least first and second prize, Kalla said. "They loved it, they had a blast!" Kalla remarked.

The competition dance team was split up into several different categories according to age, explained Kalla, and the youngest of the competitors was six and the older was 19.

The dynamite dancers have not only won a lot of trophies in Vegas two weeks ago, but will be returning to the tumbling town in another week to compete in a high school event called "Battle of the Stars."

The two entries chosen to contend, come from the girls having high scores in their divisions. A small lyrical jazz group (a combination ballet and jazz, performed in bare feet), and a larger group of tap dancers will strive for the first prize at the high school contest.

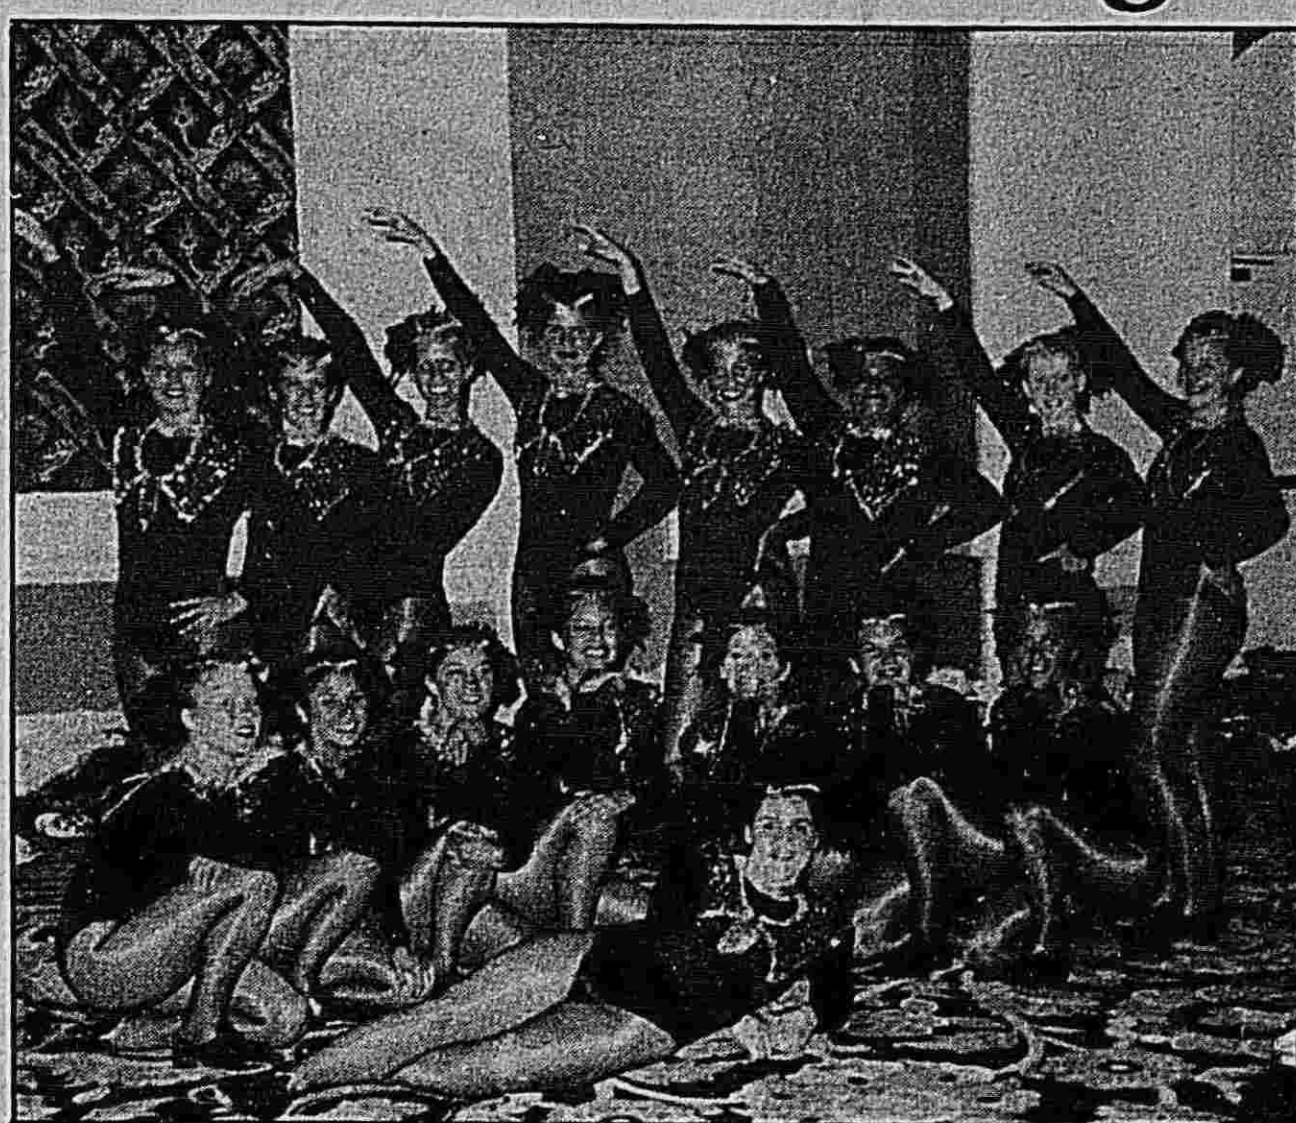

Kalla noted good news again: one of her dance troops have been chosen for an audition on the renowned Star Search television program in the fall of this year. Re-grouping her teams for the fall, and starting all over again, is what Kalla said that she will be doing next. Her teams include ballet, tap, jazz, tumbling and lyrical dance.

The owner of two studios in Lake Villa, the main office at 90 Cedar Avenue and the other at 133 Cedar Avenue, and also a location in Lake Bluff, is a veteran dancer herself, who has earned many awards and trophies for the art form that she has perfected. Kalla said that she has been dancing since she was three years old, and the style that she favors most is tap.

Dancers that participated in the competition were: Lindsay Bolton, Kathryn Hribar, Kelly McAvory, Kaja Milovanovic, Erin O'Grady, Jenna Olson, Andrea Pollock, Nancy Bleim, Megan Kasper, Lizzie O'Brien, Heather Ruhl, Julie Freeman, Samantha Griffin, Melissa Hague, Audra Miles, Katie Nerroth, Kim Fischer.

Krista Harvey, Rebecca Massuci, Heidi Moyninan, Shelly Nerroth, Elizabeth Sobczak, Becky Ambacher, Missy Ayala, Beth Blockinger, Jenny Depperschmidt, Heather Fiene, Kristin Hall, Amanda Masek, Sarah McKoski, Katie Metcalf, Dana Pierson, Kristin Pierson, Jamie Wegener, and Alyssa Griffin.—by TINA SWIECH

Sweet taste from kitchens

Berry syrups prepared in your own home are a sweet addition to pancakes, ice cream, pastries and other desserts.

Either fresh or frozen fruit may be used, so you're not limited to the fruit season to whip up a batch of syrup.

For one batch, you'll need 6-1/2 cups of fruit. Wash and cap, stem or pit the fruit and crush it in a saucepan. Heat the fruit to boiling and simmer until it is soft, about 5 to 10 minutes.

While still hot, strain the fruit through a colander and let it drain until cool enough to handle.

Next, restrain the juice through a double layer of cheesecloth or a jelly bag, then discard the dry pulp. You should have nearly five cups of juice.

Return the juice to a large saucepan and add 3/4 cups of sugar. Bring the mixture to a boil and simmer for one minute. To make a syrup with whole fruit pieces, save one or two cups of the fruit. Combine the pieces with the sugar mixture and simmer for another minute. Remove the saucepan from heat and skim off the foam.

Pour mixture into presterilized pint or half-pint jars, leaving one-half inch of headspace.

Wipe the rims and adjust new two-piece canning lids.

After the water returns to a full, rolling boil, process jars for 10 minutes in a boiling water bath canner. After processing, when jars are cool, check the seals. Remove the rims, then wipe jars and label them.

Store syrup jars in a cool, dark, dry place where they are in no danger of freezing in the winter.

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Let your creative engines surge this week, and you'll get the answers you need about work, love or money. You might even want to hang out a shingle. You give testimony to what can be accomplished by ingenuity mixed with will.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) As an earth sign, you are always grounded, and right now, you're out to prove just that. Attempts at shaking up the status quo have you boiling with passion. You may need a couple of days off from all the intensity. Phew!

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Imagine life without talk, writing or any other form of communication. That's the isolation you might need toward the end of this week. Sorry, dear Gemini, — looks like you said too much and, uh, put your foot in your mouth. You'd prefer fun, alone, or with another.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You make resolutions about money one more time and decide to show you really mean it. Conversations this week are wild with loved ones. It'd be better to say little, and let your actions speak. Count on a nice, quiet, inexpensive weekend at home.

LEO (July 23-August 22) You are your magnetic self as the sun moves into your sign. You want everyone with you to celebrate — your birthday, the new boss, or whatever. Yes, you sure put on a good party this weekend. Enjoy the spotlight and put on.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22) Contact a pal who can keep a secret, because, wow, do you have a whopper. Popularity peaks just before the weekend and ultimately dips because you simply can't say yes to everyone. Difficult being so desirable, isn't it?

LIBRA (September 23-October 22) Examine what your best interests really are, or you'll find yourself deep in the doghouse this week. The good news is that it's a relatively short stay, and you'll exit grinning and all the better for the rest. Oddly enough, you clearly made your point even if you were in a forced submission. Lap up all the apologies this weekend.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21) Do notice (subtly) that others are noticing you this week. Put your best foot forward at both work and play. You may receive an unusual offer that allows you to split early. Don't be responsible: go. You can have it all right now, so why not?

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21) You are so fanciful, Sag. It must be difficult to stay in town this week. Nevertheless, the boss demands high performance, and that is what you give. The spotlight is on you, so take bows for a job well done. You find time to celebrate this weekend. Any excuse will do.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19) It's been said that more people fail for lack of purpose than lack of talent. Not you, as you can be a tough negotiator when you know what you want. Your expertise is in demand all week as others keep calling for your ability to find solutions. Expect to be on call all weekend, too!

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18) The ball is NOT in your court this week, but, frankly, you don't care. You go with others and their plans. Popularity is high right now, so the passivity isn't all that bad. If you know what's good for you, make extra time for a special someone. You clear out this weekend and go for the escape. Enjoy. You deserve.

PISCES (February 19-March 20) Plunge into work this week and demonstrate you are quite capable of handling fairy tale weekends. The less said to co-workers about the romantic times, the better. You'll gain both professionally and emotionally if you learn to sort the work from the play. And hold on tight — it is a lulu of a weekend!

Eastwood entertains in 'Fire'

Clint Eastwood

If his 40 years in show biz have taught Clint Eastwood anything it's how to entertain, a talent he has shown over and over again in front and behind the camera.

Although his latest flick, "In the Line of Fire," bears a strong resemblance to Kevin Costner's "Bodyguard," it has enough freshness and excitement of its own to carry it.

With age and experience, Eastwood's comedy sense now strikes a good balance with his tight-jawed tough guy.

Eastwood plays a vintage secret service man on his last legs who's still wondering if he should have taken the bullet for JFK who he was guarding that day in Dallas.

When John Malkovich starts to bug him about the Kennedy gig and hinting at a repeat, Eastwood gets himself put back guarding the present White House incumbent.

Malkovich makes a great villain of many faces, the final of which is the least notable - he looks too much like himself to get by all the guards around the president for the big shootout.

Eastwood's character, the very very human man of grit, reveals a lot of charming chinks in his armor.

"Fire" has its share of suspense, enough to keep the audience awake without really nauseating them.

Rene Russo plays the part of the female agent who supplies a bit of love interest.

Although we are familiar with the time-honored tradition that perpetuates the coupling of much older men and young "chicks" — we still wish that Hollywood would make the love interests of our aging heroes a little more believable, by at least pairing them with women in their interesting late 30s+ and not always with tots in their twinkling 20s. What's wrong with the Raquel Welch, the Ann Margarets, the Farah Fawcetts, etc., when it comes to 50+-year-old heroes?

"Fire," rated "R," draws four out of five stars as probably one of the best action films of the season.—by GLORIA DAVIS

SE HABLA ESPANOL
ALL ROADS LEAD
TO ROCKENBACH

Spoke too soon

I am calling from Antioch and am in shock tonight. Two major storms came through the area Saturday, and our cable did not go out. I don't know why? It is still on. Has the cable company finally fixed their equipment?

Right to the road warrior

The right to the road is not a figment of my imagination. If you are such a good Samaritan, then you would notice and appreciate the dangers we are in. By the way, I would not drive on the tollway because there are still people like you with drivers licenses.

Game should be fun

I have noticed something disturbing in the past week. In two separate incidents small children between the ages of 9 and 12, were almost put into tears at a Little League game. Parents put too much pressure on them. Parents, baseball is a game for fun, do not do this to your children.

Buoyed up

If the no wake zone is 150 feet from shore, there sure were a lot of violators this weekend. Please hurry and put buoys up to protect swimmers and our property.

Disorderly conduct

Lake Villa was well represented in the recent baseball tournament in LaCrosse Wisconsin. Obviously sportsman like behavior was being taught since one coach was arrested, maced, and handcuffed in front of the kids and players. The board should rethink who they have coaching the traveling teams.

No conspiracy

I notice that there are never any negative comments or complaints about Lake Zurich. I live there and am going to stop subscribing to the paper because you only print what you want to print. Too bad your paper is biased towards Lake Zurich.

Editorial note: Dear Reader, believe it or not, we have had no negative comments or complaints about or from Lake Zurich in months. Do you have a specific complaint?

Doing their job

I can tell you where the mayor, trustees, and clerk were during the flood. They were down here helping out! They carried me from my flooded home.

Siren problems

What happened in Grayslake on July 1 was that a police officer thought he spotted a funnel cloud. He called the dispatcher who had to call the chief to get permission to activate the siren. At least I was told they activated the siren although I was outside and did not hear it. Obviously, we have some problems here if a dispatcher has to waste time in an emergency. Also, many people are unaware of the meaning of these sirens and it would be helpful to publish this information to the public.

Flood victim

I live in Round Lake Beach and after leaving many messages I cannot get anyone in city hall to return my calls. I thought they were going to make themselves available to residents concerning the flood. All I get are the Red Cross people, who cannot help me. I think the mayor is starting off on the wrong foot. He should do me the courtesy of returning my calls and acknowledging my problems.

Can't get help

There are many people in the Round Lake area who may not have good credit. But, these flood victims may have a good job now and could pay back their loans. Unfortunately, they will be unable to get loans even though they have lost everything. These people can't get help from anywhere.

Brief note

Taxation has become a way to legally rob us.

Wants thanks

I want to compliment the committee for the parade and 4th of July celebration in Antioch for ignoring to thank the VFW post for their involvement. The 4th of July is a patriotic celebration.

Editorial note: the Antioch Village Board did pass a motion concerning this issue.

Wants foreign bucks

After watching the news about the damage from the flooding I want to know where the foreign aid is for us. Or, is it only a one-way deal?

Shop locally

I am a retired person from Antioch. Presently the schools in town are in trouble. I want to remind Antioch residents, when it is possible, shop in Antioch. Businesses produce tax dollars for the schools and if they prosper, they attract new businesses.

Road budget woes

In America, elected officials cooperate with the electorate. Are you trying to change our form of government, Semmerling? Reduce the budget!

So there

My son watched the "boy mayor" fill sandbags all afternoon. Then, I worked until midnight by their side. "Just wondering" should have been over there filling sandbags instead of sitting home thinking up nasty cracks.

Likes no wake

I heard that the advisory board for the Waterway Management Agency was considering dropping the 150 foot no wake area. Please, please don't. Being able to swim and fish off shore has been great these past few weeks.

Editorial note: Dear reader, the WMA has extended the 150 no wake rule for another 30 days. It will be on the board's agenda for August to consider making it permanent.

Taxed to the max

I agree with the person from Mundelein about our high taxes. My taxes have more than doubled in the past few years. What are we supposed to do, work for our real estate taxes only? Something has to be done.

Recent death

I have a friend that died on me Tuesday. I want people to know it is not easy when somebody dies. I feel numb right now. If you can, tell someone how special they are before they die. It is final.

Loaner thanks

We would like to thank Lyons-Ryan and Raymond Chevrolet for the loan of the automobile for our daughter's drivers ed course. You have been great.

Not invited

I have very fond memories of the Mundelein Days this year. It was A-#1! My only complaint was that some people brought their dogs. I did not see any pooper-scoopers. It seems like an invite to get bitten. The fair is no place to bring your dog.

He's mad

I drive a dump truck. I am mad at the idiots that pull out in front of me in their four-wheel drives expecting me to stop on a dime. I'm mad.

Hard worker

I've known Mayor Terry Lumpkin for nine years and he is one of the hardest working men I know. Whoever wrote that article made no sense at all.

No advantage

I am the mother of Little Miss Libertyville and recently had the honor of judging the Little Miss Grayslake. My daughter did not win until the day after the Grayslake contest! How could I have picked my own daughter's competition? The person who complained should feel free to call me and discuss it.

Citizen shame

Shame on the citizens of Antioch for failing to appreciate the efforts of the village board to find alternative funding for our schools. Fox Riverboat is now offering a substantial amount of money for our schools. Congratulations on the courage you trustees showed.

Free pizza

Local pizza restaurants should not throw away their mistakes. The Lake Villa Food Pantry would love to have them.

Mad at board

I am from Antioch and I am angry to see what the village board did when they reversed their position on riverboat gambling. Supposedly, more money will be available for the schools. We'll see... The state lottery was supposed to save the schools too.

Yard work

Northern Illinois Gas Company has a building in Ingleside. They need to clean up and do some landscaping. Make our community better!

Barking tips

The person who called in and said that barking dogs can be stopped by calling the police had the right idea. But when dogs keep you awake or wake you up early in the morning, by the time you stumble to the phone to call the police, the owners have already brought the dogs in. The damage is already been done. The police must actually hear the dog barking to issue a citation. Why can't the police go to the dog owners door and at least tell them that there has been a complaint. Even though no citation can be issued. Police, please go to the door.

Private audience?

With all the rivers bulging at their seams, it is the Lord's way of saying no riverboats.

Board information

School boards are elected positions. It is strictly voluntary. There is nothing to gain but the loss of time. I am from Gurnee.

Critic

I just read the first entry "A poem". I know that a lot of people have been calling in asking for a poetry corner. I'm sorry, but if this is an indication of future entries to come, I hope you will not print anymore.

Worried pageant watcher

After reading all of the complaints, I am wondering just what is happening to the pageant system in Lake County. I find it sad that mothers are judging their daughter's competition and others are paying to go see it. It will be interesting to see what will happen at the Lake County Pageant. I think the officials should wake up.

Costly notes

This is the last straw! I just got a press release in the mail from Jim Semmerling. We paid $.29 postage - not bulk mail. You still don't get it, do you? The people are sick of your spendthrift ways! You are a public servant, not God, Jim.

Earwig help

Instead of smashing your earwigs with Lipservice, roll up the newspaper (of course after it is read), get it damp and place it where the earwigs hide. The next morning pick up the paper VERY CAREFULLY and place it in a trash bag. Or you can take it and burn the little suckers once they are in the newspaper. Bye.

Editorial note: this can also be done with the News-Sun and Chicago Tribune.

Disappointed reader

I just started getting your paper about two months ago. I thought Lipservice was a great idea. I called in my first Lipservice about 3 weeks ago and you guys did not print it. What's the problem? It was about parents of little leaguers putting too much pressure on them. It was nothing bad so why wasn't it printed?

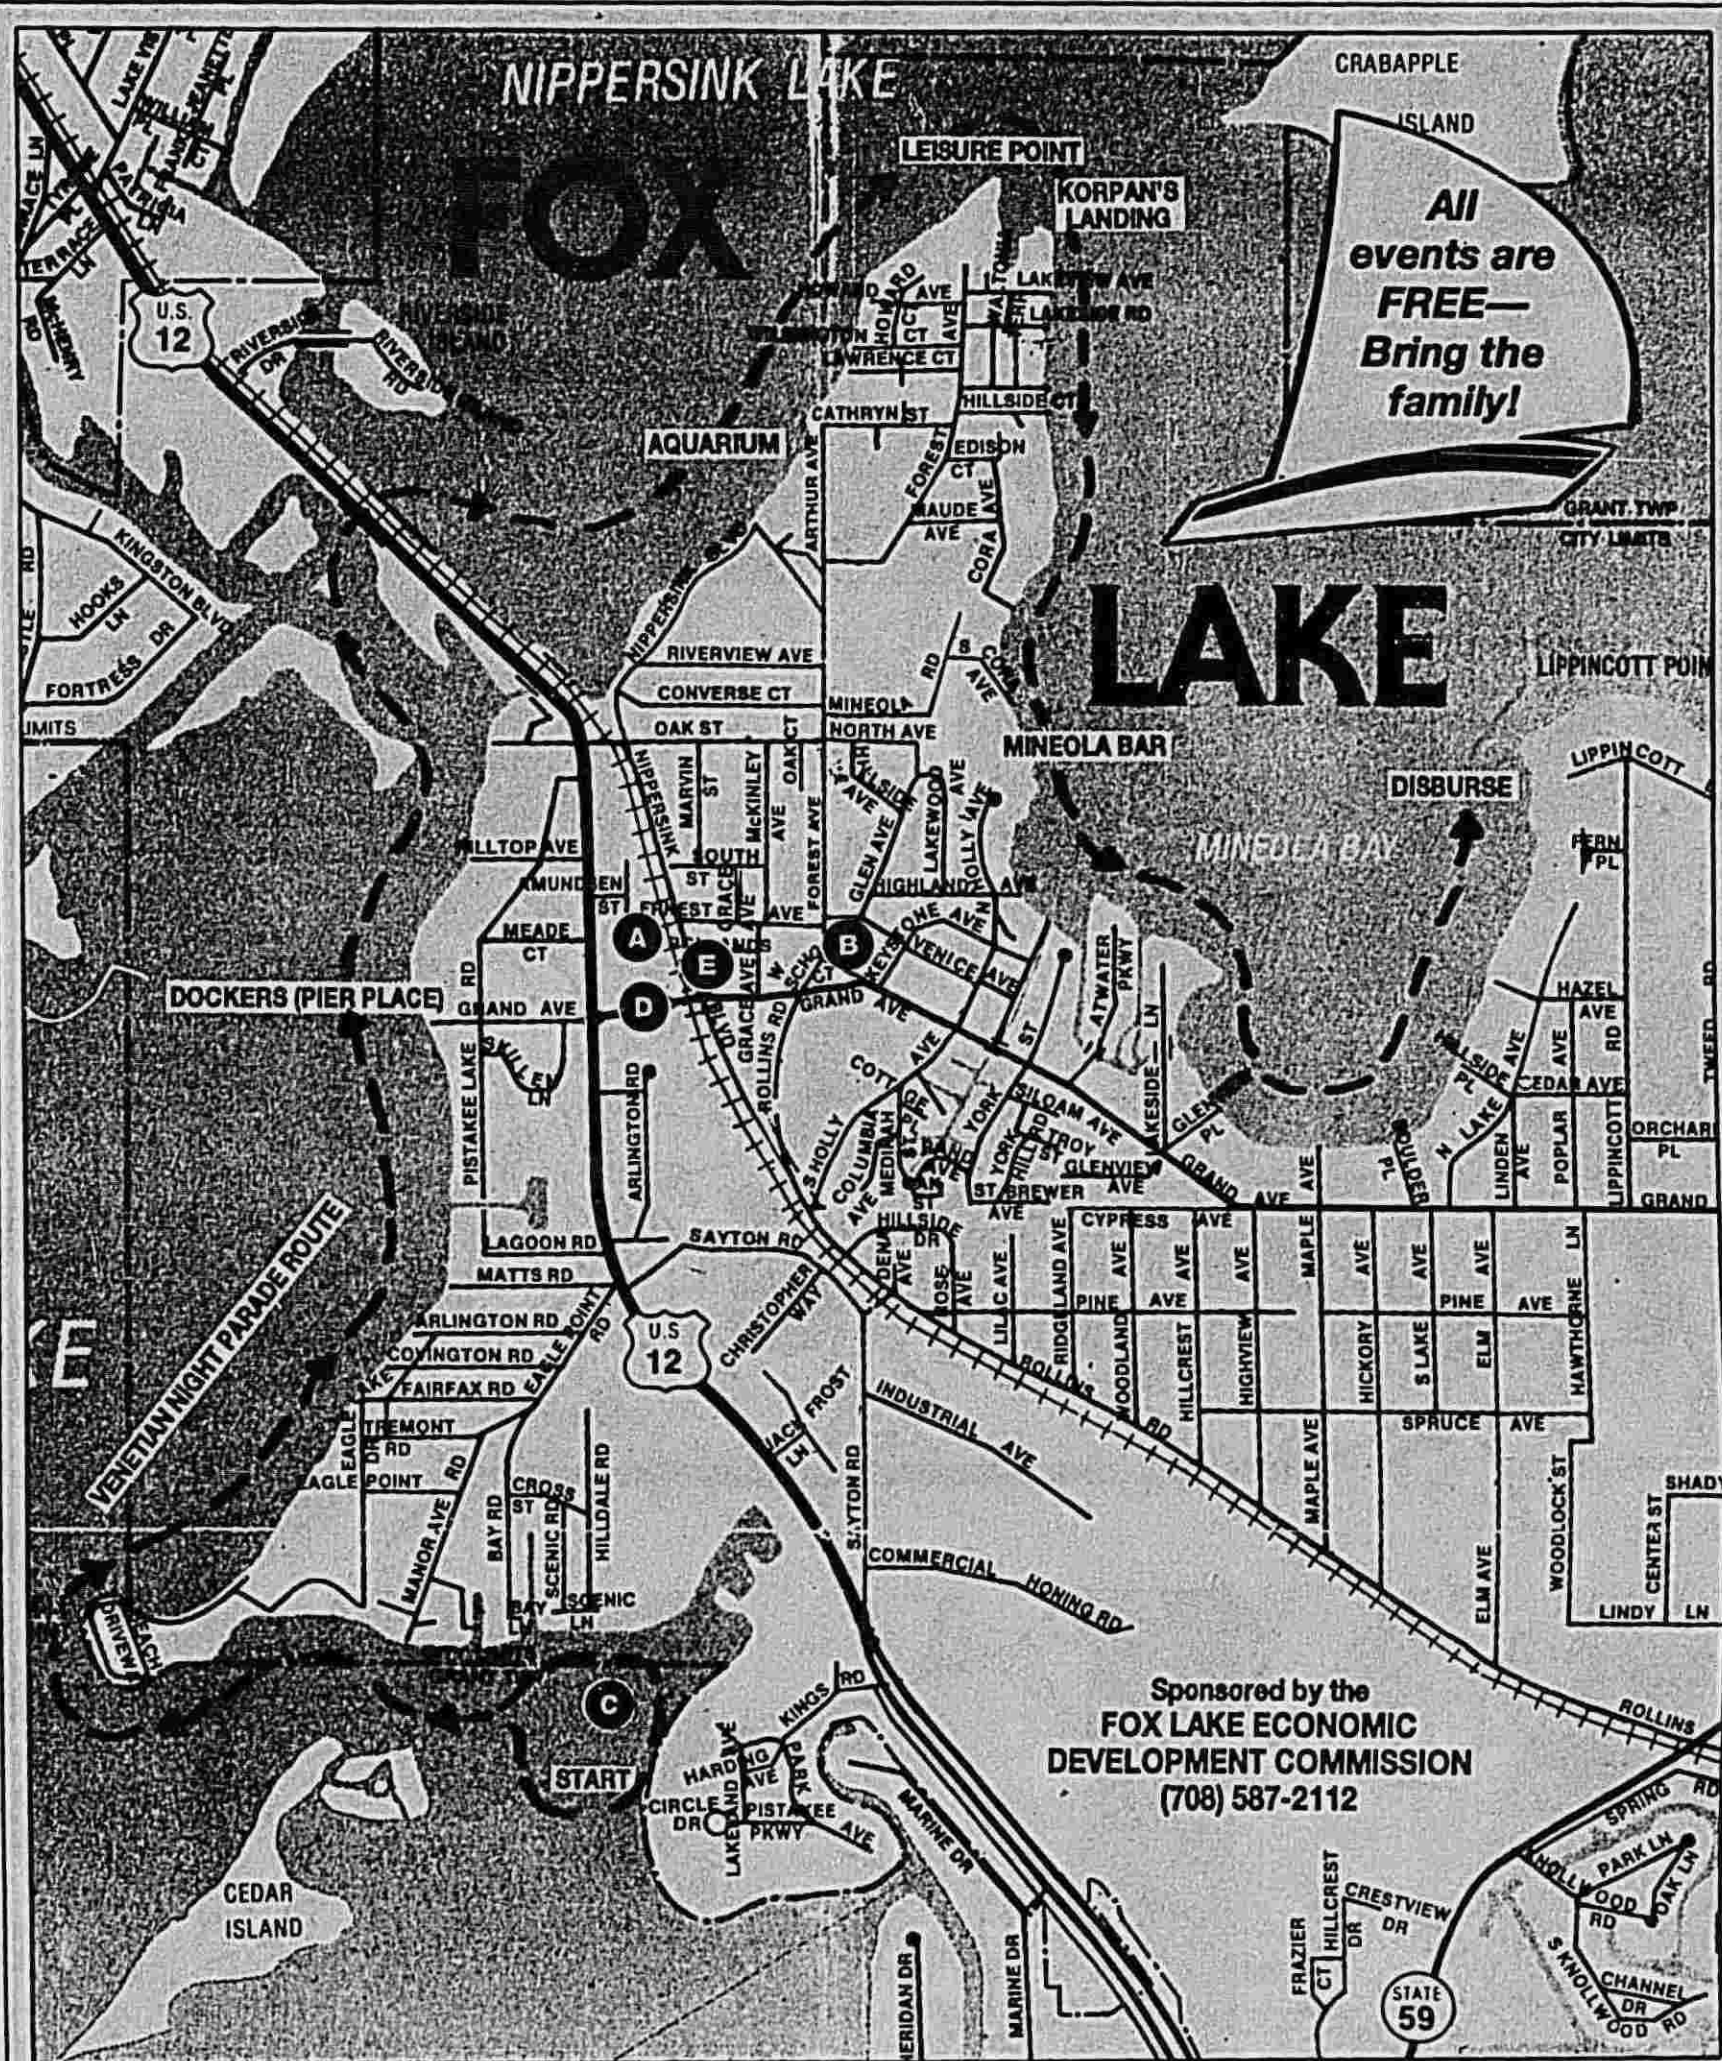

Editorial note: Dear Reader, we apologize! Due to an extremely high volume of calls we have been unable to print as many calls as we would like. Please forgive us.

SALE-A-BRATION!

July
23,
24 & 25

The Venetian Night boat parade will be followed by fireworks at Dockers.

Fireworks, sales food and fun at Sale-A-Bratton

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Fox Lake businesses are planning the biggest sales of the year for the village's Sale-A-Bratton event scheduled for July 23-25 in the downtown area.

According to Fox Lake Economic Development Commission Chairman Ken Birchard, sales at the second annual event could reach their goal of $1 million.

"The business community is looking forward to this," said Birchard. "Sale-A-Bratton is one of the business community's biggest weekends for sales."

The three-day event begins on July 23 with auto/boat show and the sidewalk sale running together until Sunday afternoon. Eleven boat dealers and 3 new car dealerships will discount the displayed merchandise to get a high number of sales at the Commuter Parking lot.

"This is the time to buy," said Birchard. "Especially if you want a boat."

Birchard believes the business community can reach the $1 million goal due to the committee's efforts and an increased marketing campaign.

In addition to the auto/boat show and sidewalk sale for downtown merchants, on July 24, an arts and crafts show will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Fox Lake Community Center and the Venetian Night Boat Parade will precede the fireworks display later that night.

Finally, on July 25, an antique car show is scheduled for the Second Federal S&L parking lot from noon to 4 p.m. A number of antique and show cars will be available, including several Ford Thunderbird models.

The purpose of the celebration is to help the business community by bringing people to town and to their shops.

"That is why I love the idea of a fireworks show on July 24," said Birchard. "Everyone loves fireworks and it will bring more people to town."

EDC enters new era as official arm of village

by TINA SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

During the late 1980's, in order to aid the village with financial input, allowing for some positive changes, the Fox Lake Economic Development Commission (EDC) was formed.

An event that the commission is sponsoring during July 23 to 25, is the second annual Sale-A-Bratton, a 3-day opportunity which could quite possibly reach the goal of $1 million in sales for the village of Fox Lake, according to Chairman of the Committee and President of the Fox Lake State Bank, Ken Birchard. Last year, the Sale-A-Bratton brought in about three-quarters of one million dollars, Birchard explained. Birchard is credited for implementing the special sale, which he stressed is "not a street festival."

"Our (auto and boat) dealers in Fox Lake are really looking forward to this celebration," Birchard said. The bank president explained that the EDC sat down and discussed the idea several years ago, noting that Chicago has an annual auto show, so why couldn't Fox Lake have an auto/boat show? Fox Lake, well-known for its many marinas and recreational activities, has recently suffered from a lack of boating due to the flooding which in turn caused for a "No Wake" area posting, according to officials.

Also, the lake was closed for boating on July 4, according to Birchard, and the annual Fox Lake fireworks were also cancelled, but will be shown during the Sale-A-Bratton, said Birchard. The sale should help to pick up on the loss, Birchard explained. "Dealerships are really looking forward to things going again," said the EDC Chairman.

In January of this year, the EDC made some changes, passing a resolution establishing them to become an "official arm" of the village of Fox Lake government. The commission is composed of 11 committee members - the mayor plus 10 people which he appointed to the development committee. Now that the commission is a lot more official, according to four-year member Michael Lescher, it can present resolutions directly to the village board. This way, they get more results. Previously, the development commission had to go through the grapevine of some of its committee members, who are also village officials, and then they would go to the village board.

One issue that the commission has been able to make use of its newfound power for was the Fox River riverboat casino dispute. "We are strongly in support of it, and felt that it would do nothing but enhance the economy of the village," said Lescher.

Lescher was appointed as commission member in 1989 by former Mayor of Fox Lake and physician, Dr. William Dam. Then he was reappointed to the post by the next mayor, Frank Meier.

Eleven marinas will participate in Sale-A-Bratton.

The streets of Fox Lake will be lined with decorations celebrating the annual sales event.

Auto/Boat show offers lots of bargains, fun

This weekend, the annual Auto/Boat Show, part of the Fox Lake Sale-A-Bratton, will feature hundreds of new cars and boats at special prices.

Pat McKie, of Sandi McKie and Sons on Rte. 12, said that this will be the second year that her company is participating in the village event. "It's really a lot of fun. We really enjoyed it (last year)," McKie said.

The village commuter parking lots will be the location for the autos and boats, and businesses will have some of their salespeople at the site to assist buyers and lookers.

Among automobile and truck dealerships that will be part of the Sale-A-Bratton, Fox Lake Ford-Mercury, Ray Chevrolet & Geo, and Sandy McKie and Sons will attend. Marina participants will include Lakeshore Marine, Pistakee Marina, Sailing World, Fox Lake Harbor, Watts Marina, Munson's Marina, Kramer Boat Co., Skipper

Bud's, Inboard Water Sports, Ostrow Marine and Hidden Cove Marina.

Due to the fact that state law prohibits autos or trucks being sold on a Sunday, participating car dealerships will leave tags with phone numbers of the particular store displaying the vehicle, on the cars, according to dealerships.

Hours for the sale will be July 23, noon to 8 p.m., July 24, 11 a.m. to 6 p.m., July 25, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.—by TINA SWIECH

Merchants from throughout the village participate in Sale-A-Bratton.

Doers Club to sponsor third Arts and Crafts Fair

One of the star events at the Fox Lake Sale-A-Bratton going on in the town this weekend, will be the third annual Arts and Crafts Fair, Saturday, July 24, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The center is located at 66 Thillen Drive, across from the Lakeland Plaza, and the fair is sponsored by the "Doers Club" of the Fox Lake State Bank.

This will be the third time that the Doers Club will hold such an event in conjunction with the village Sale-A-Bratton, according to Bernie Remblake, coordinator of the bank's club.

"Every year it keeps growing," said Remblake. The coordinator explained that there are about 2,400 Doers Club members, and many of them are involved in the craft fair. The club is also paying for the rental of the building during the event, explained Remblake.

Among exquisite handmade goods that will be for sale are decorated designer-type shirts, homemade jellies, patchwork quilts, knitted and crocheted gifts, dolls, silk flower arrangements, and beaded items will be included.

Besides the handmade items on display, refreshments will be sold, sponsored and served up by the "Silver Foxes," a senior citizens group that meets each Wednesday at the Community Center. Foods on the list for eating pleasure, include sandwiches, desserts, soft drinks and coffee, said June Ollerman, Silver Fox member and kitchen commander for the event.

Battle of man vs. nature rages on downstate

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

The mood of the residents of Alexander County in Southern Illinois is upbeat, despite the damage the raging floodwaters of the Mississippi River caused over the past several weeks.

Hundreds of volunteers joined together to help the Illinois National Guard, Illinois State Police, Illinois Dept. of Transportation, U.S. Forest Service and the Army Corps of Engineers fight an attempted change in the direction of the river, which would have cut a new channel through the Illinois countryside and isolate the southern tip of the state.

About 100 Guard troops deployed to the flooded region on July 15, after the swollen Cache River and a levee breach on Horseshoe Lake tag-teamed the tiny town of Olive Branch, Ill., flooding numerous fields, mostly farmland, with as much as 20 feet of water.

Nearly every home in Olive Branch looked like fortified bunkers as residents attempted to save their homes from rising flood waters.

Life-long Olive Branch resident Naomi Digham, who remembers another massive flood in 1973, said, "We have been sandbagging seven days a week for the past three weeks."

Digham estimated she bunkered her home with two tons of solid material under several thousand sandbags, just as the rising water began to flood her backyard.

Another Olive Branch native, James Miller, said he protected his home with more than 20,000 sandbags and was planning to get more.

Residents may indeed, however, because despite the floodwaters being about the same, some 20 feet above flood stage, today's flood waters must now contend with man-made levees built to hold rising waters back.

The Army Corps of Engineers said it plans to stay six weeks or longer to ensure the levee system holds and doesn't flood the southern portion of the state.

Governor Jim Edgar has given no indication of when he plans to deactivate the 3,500 National Guard troops now on state active duty in Quincy, East St. Louis, Murphysboro and Anna-Jonesboro.

"We plan to stay as long as it takes to get the job done," said Lt. Col. Jay Sheedy, Air National Guard commander of the Southern Task Force headquartered at Murphysboro High School.

It is nearly Desert Storm-type hype in all of the towns the Guard has visited. Southern hospitality here has included meals, Gatorade or water for workers, sunshades for Guards in open areas, free use of a hotel swimming pool, free movie rentals and near celebrity status.

"Everybody waves at us," said Technical Sgt. Thomas Stoult, who served in the active duty Air Force for 10 years before joining the Guard. "I feel like a rock star."

Maybe the most generous donation was from an Illinois State senator who donated three butchered pigs for a massive pig roast.

Although Guard members have been away from loved ones for more than a week, the warmth and generosity of the community has built an esprit de corps that has made the team of the Illinois National Guard and the community they serve, a tough team to beat.

Editors note: Stevens, Lakeland's Business Editor and reporter covering the Fox Lake and Antioch areas is a Public Affairs Director for the Illinois Air National Guard. He is deployed to the flood region to assist with relief efforts.

Village of Antioch falls in with County, Township

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The Village of Antioch joined both Lake County and Antioch Township in endorsing Fox Riverboat Limited Partnership's proposal for a riverboat casino. In the surprise meeting, the village board voted 6-0 in favor of the proposal after the partnership pledged an estimated $17 million.

Antioch Mayor Marilyn J. Shineflug said that the offer of the riverboat developers to pledge an additional $17 million beyond tax revenues to local governments, schools, and civic organizations came at an important time for the village. The deficit for Antioch High School for current year is approaching $2 million.

According to representatives from Fox Riverboat Limited Partnership, they are pledging these unprecedented annual donations because they believe the Lake County project will produce the most revenue and benefit the largest amount of people in Illinois.

Under the terms announced, 2 percent of the casino's gaming revenues plus 15 percent of its net operating income (after recovery of funds invested) will be distributed to support child welfare organizations, local public and parochial schools, local government as well as other charities and groups.

The proposed Lake County site is located along Route 173 at the Fox River. It is only 1 1/2 miles south of the Wisconsin border and 1,000 feet from the Village of Fox Lake.

Robert Depke, Chairman of the Lake County Board noted that in addition to the economic package, the project will provide employment to the community. "The Lake County Project will create at least 1,400 full-time, equal opportunity jobs with full benefits plus over 700 indirect jobs in one of Illinois' most needy and deserving areas," said Depke.

The Illinois Gaming Board has now delayed its decision on who the last gaming license will go to. The Gaming Board was forced to remove the riverboat casino issue from the July 20 agenda when a newly appointed board member requested a delay in order to familiarize himself with all of the issues.

Technology brings power to consumers faster

by R. VINZANT
Lakeland Newspapers

As electrical power teeters on entering its second century in Lake County, new technology is bringing quicker, safer and more efficient service to the public.

Commonwealth Edison's Libertyville facility utilizes the cutting edge of technology in each work place and in each transaction that is processed.

Opened in August of 1990, it serves as headquarters for the Northern Illinois Region and is one of five on-line customer services centers for Com Ed.

"Prior to August of 1990, telephone answering was done at individual offices from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. only except for emergencies," said Don Craig, Customer Service Representative Supervisor. "Today, customer service is available 24 hours a day."

There are 440 customer service representatives at the five telephone answering centers that respond to calls on the 1-800-Edison number. They answer questions related to billing, credit, service outages and change of address. The representative sends electronic tickets to service crews via the computer to handle service calls. Service calls are then dispatched through the dispatch center to crews in that geographical area.

"Commonwealth Edison realized that we couldn't serve the customer base only eight hours a day," said Craig. "We had to change to meet the needs of our customers."

Through the customer service representatives, Spanish speaking representatives are available as is a language line.

Commonwealth Edison also has the capability to program a phone message for incoming customers that alerts them to outages in a specific geographical location and estimated restoration time.

"Our customer service representatives go through an intensive training program and a yearly refresher to ensure they are giving the best possible service," said Craig. "Our motto is to put the customer first."

Another way, Commonwealth Edison is using technology to improve service is through the computerization of their data maps.

"Eventually we hope to have small hand-held computers in trucks that will do a mental analysis electronically on the distribution system for crews when they arrive to do a repair job," said Al Wroblewski, distribution, maintenance and construction regional manager. "The tools are out there for this to be accomplished. Technology has brought us a long way but we still rely on the customer to let us know when they have a service outage."

Wroblewski says no matter how advanced technology becomes there will always be some power outages.

"We can work to eliminate outages and to restore power quicker," he said.

The first step in the advanced technology has been completed with the computerization of maps. "The next step is to take the electronic file and integrate it to analyze customer calls," said Wroblewski. "The faster we can get information to the crews making the restoration, the faster power can be restored. The biggest concern the customer has is when the power will be back on. People want to know that you are aware of the problem and are working on it."

Wroblewski estimates the technology could be on line within the next couple of years.

Mike Titre of Arlington Heights is loading one of many thousand paper maps into a computer. At some point in the future, when a problem occurs in the field, service crews will be able to link into the computer files via a modem and display a map of the troubled area.—Photo by Gene Gabry

CLC registration set

The College of Lake County will conduct on-site registration for fall credit courses at five southwest Lake County locations in August. Fall classes will begin Aug. 23.

Registration will be held from 4 to 7 p.m. at the following sites: Wauconda Public Library, 801 N. Main St., on Aug. 2 and 9; Chip-pers/Bufalo Grove Golf Club, 48 Raupp Blvd., on Aug. 3; Elia Public Library, 135 Buesching Rd., Lake Zurich, on Aug. 4 and 11; Adlai Stevenson High School, 16010 W. Hwy. 22, Prairie View, on Aug. 5; and Fremont Public Library, 370 N. Lake St., Mundelein, on Aug. 10.

For registration information, call 223-3636.

Flooding delays opening

Flooding at Greenbelt Forest Preserve near Waukegan has halted construction of a new self-guided nature trail and cancelled the grand opening celebration for the new trail originally scheduled for July 25. The grand opening celebration will be rescheduled for a later date when flooding has subsided. When complete, the one-mile crushed-gravel trail will circle a beautiful marsh and feature colorful new signs that interpret the area. Greenbelt, located on Greenbay Road, south of Route 120 near Waukegan, is Lake County's most urban preserve with a surprising diversity of wildlife and natural areas. More details are available by calling the Lake County Forest Preserves at 367-6640.

Griefnotes

How can I prevent difficulties from grief?

Many who confront grief for the first time are surprised at the intensity of their feelings. Grief is most often associated with the death of a loved one but it can also result from divorce, loss of bodily function, moving or from a child growing up and leaving home. Because grief is poorly understood, those who have not experienced it personally can be poor helpers. By learning about grief ahead of time we can more capably assist friends in their time of need and can more readily understand the intensity of feelings when death affects our families. Take time to read and inquire about grief and learn ways to assist those in need of support.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I am a recent high school graduate who is wanting to pursue a career working with children. I plan on attending my local college in the fall however, would like to work in a field that is beneficial in the long run on my resume. What do you suggest for a part time position for someone in my field? Thank you in advance. W.H. - Gurnee.

A: Dear W.H. No time like the present to start your career moving in the right direction! Some of the best summer work experience is right outside your door. I will suggest the possibility of applying for a job with Great America. This would enable you to, as I say, "earn and learn", and meet great people. Naturally, you must realize this is a seasonal employer and that come fall you may wish to seek other employment sources. Contact your local park district, and township centers, who throughout the course of the year offers wonderful programs both indoor and out and who is always in search of good employees to coordinate, instruct and supervise. You mention "working with children"...If your niche is early childhood...check out your local day care facilities. You're on the right track...Good Luck!

Q: Dear...Search: I am a college graduate with a degree in journalism. I finished school two years ago and like many others, have been unable to find anything in my field that will earn me as much money as I get waiting tables at a well known restaurant. I am good at what I do and am very pleased to say that my earnings are in the upper 20's. I have continued to search for something in my field, not so avidly, but am reluctant to take a pay cut. Friends and especially family are all over me saying I am wasting my college education. I say, I am enjoying what I do, and journalism doesn't thrill me anymore. I am not embarrassed by what I do. As a matter of fact, if I would have known how good the money was...I would have waited tables while attending college. I am not saying I'll wait tables forever, perhaps I will explore the management side of what I do and go on to someday owning my own restaurant. So many graduates hold on for a position in their field and are jobless because of it. They may find that exploring other avenues in the mean time, may land them something very different and that is okay, too! Thanks for listening. P.G. - Libertyville.

A: Dear P.G. Well put. By the way...there are college courses and degrees in restaurant management. The experience you receive now may in fact be paving the road for your future!

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 5101 Washington St., Gurnee, IL 60031.

Antioch

David Ring, nationally known evangelist, and Sandy Rios, contemporary Christian artist, will be the featured guests at a special evening service at the Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church on July 25 at 6 p.m.

David Ring of Orlando, Fla., was born with cerebral palsy and presents a powerful testimony of how the love of Jesus Christ transformed him from "a cerebral palsy victim into a cerebral palsy victor." Empowered by Christ, Ring has overcome extreme physical and emotional obstacles to become a messenger of the Gospel.

Ring, a staff evangelist for First Baptist Church in Orlando, now speaks in over 200 churches a year. He has been a guest on "The Old Time Gospel Hour" and the "700 Club" and has spoken at numerous conferences, youth rallies and conventions.

Sandy Rios is a powerful vocalist whose voice has been used musically and in spoken word to affect change and encourage hearts around the world. She co-hosted the first Christian broadcast to originate from the studios of Radio Moscow and has co-hosted "Primetime America" for Moody Broadcasting Network.

This will be the seventh meeting of the church's annual summer series of Outstanding Summer Sunday Nights. This meeting is open to all. For more information, call the church's office at 838-0103.

Cyclists: Children of Satan?

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

Sorry about the headline, but I wanted to get your attention. If the animosity between the drivers of motorized vehicles and bicyclists doesn't make your gears slip, stop reading here.

This minor, ongoing controversy has popped up in our "Lipservice" this summer. If you think bikes don't belong on the road, I appreciate your patronage of our paper but not your attitude.

Like most people, I started riding a bicycle before I started school and rode one until I got my driver's license. And, like a lot of other people, I picked it up again as an adult. Next to my Boxcar Willie eight-tracks, my mountain bike is probably my most prized possession.

I ride mostly for the exercise — there's not much pleasure in pedaling an aging 250 pounds 30 or 40 miles at a time. It was 270 pounds last winter, which is indicative of one of the positive side effects of cycling.

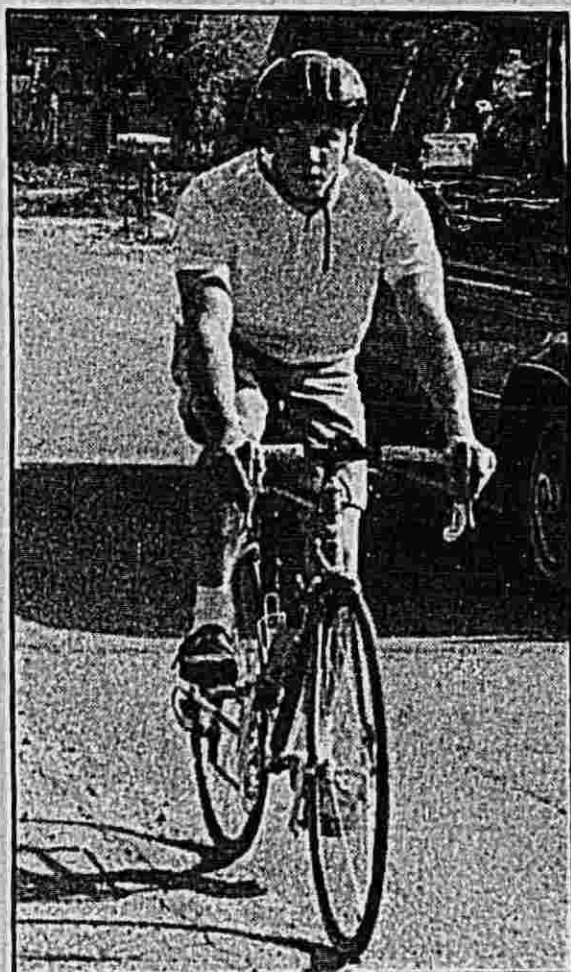

Getting to the point, however, cyclists have every bit as much right to the road as cars, trucks or motorcycles — and are subject to the same laws.

That's the word I got from Officer Tom Woodruff, who specializes in juvenile cases and bicycle safety for the Grayslake Police Department.

"They're subject to traffic tickets the same as a vehicle," Woodruff said. That includes things like making turn signals, stopping at stop signs and yielding to pedestrians. The law also says bikes should be equipped with headlights and deflectors for night riding, he added.

"I pulled a guy in his 30's over the other day for running a stop sign and gave him a warning," Woodruff said. "He wasn't setting a very good example for the kids."

So admittedly, there are cyclists

Golden Years can bring gold medals

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

If Harry Brown isn't the perfect role model for his Wauconda Junior High track charges, who is?

Brown, 63, just swept the 100, 200 and 400-meter dashes for his age group during the regional Masters Track and Field meet in Libertyville.

His times in the three events, respectively, were :12.7, :26.4 and :58.9.

That's right, there are no typos here, folks. At a time when a lot of people his age get worn out trying to crawl out of the La-Z-Boy, Brown is running faster than most high school kids.

Back in 1983, Brown proved it's never too late to get back into the fast lane.

"I had been very inactive physically until 1983," Brown said. "My son (Tom) was running track for the University of Chicago, and he told me about the Masters. He told me I could build strength."

And strong he became. After just 18 months of training, he ran the 400 in :58.5 during the Masters national meet in Houston.

Since then, Brown has competed in four Masters world meets and is set for that event in Japan in October.

Although he's obviously a superb natural athlete, Brown doesn't rest on his medals.

"I cross train a lot," he said, listing mountain-biking, swimming and weightlifting as his top choices. "Almost all of the Masters runners lift weights."

He also jogs but limits that to when an injury keeps him from his favorite forms of training.

Brown ran track for DePaul prior to entering the Army during the war in Korea. After his military service, he went into education and served as a principal in the Deerfield school system for 27 years before moving into semi-retirement in 1986.

Now, he works as a substitute teacher and helps coach the Wauconda Junior High track squad.

Brown is a member of the 100-strong Midwest Masters Track & Field Club. Although the minimum age is 40 in Europe, Masters eligibility begins at 30 in the U.S. A world meet is held every two years.

"I think they're trying to involve younger people so they'll continue in the Masters," Brown said.

At the other end of the age spectrum are some people picking up gold medals in their Golden Years. The oldest member of Brown's track club is 79.

"In Japan, I'm sure they'll have some sprinters in their 80's and 90's," he predicted.

Late heroics earn final four berth for RL Legion

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

When the 1993 American Legion season started, Aaron Strain was a catcher and outfielder for the Round Lake. An arm injury slowed his progress, but nothing could stop the Grayslake product this night in Round Lake.

Tuesday night, he earned a spot in the hearts of the Round Lake and Grayslake faithful who followed this team, which won twice as many games as it lost. Strain had a three-run home run in the third inning, his single tied the game in the seventh, and he later scored the winning run in a thrilling 7-6 win over Vernon. The win gives the Round Lake contingent its first spot in the District 10 final four in only its second season.

The final four begins July 23 at the College of Lake County. Barrington takes on Waukegan at 1 p.m. followed by Gurnee (15-5) against Round Lake (14-7) at 4 p.m. Play continues July 24 with games at 10 a.m., 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. in the double-elimination tourney. If necessary, games are set for 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. July 25.

"That was his best game of the year. He had a sore arm, and Steve Taylor took the catching spot. I put him (Strain) in right field because he had been hitting good in batting practice," Round Lake manager Ron Sapochak said.

Round Lake entered the seventh inning down 6-5 and against the Randy Myers of the District 10 relief pitchers, Bill McCarte.

Clint Rodriguez walked and was sacrificed to second base by Scott Muellemann. Strain then singled home Rodriguez for a 6-6 tie. Runners moved up to second and third on a ground out and then Matt Cullen hit a hard shot off McCarte's leg which no one could field, and Strain scored the winning run.

"They had three hits, all where no one could field them," Vernon coach Steve Breen said. His charges finished the season at 19-9.

Vernon had taken the lead with a three-run sixth off Scott Schupp. The big blow was a triple by Ken Allen and an RBI single by McCarte.

Schupp gained the win for Round Lake, improving to 4-2. Vernon seemed to have a threat every inning, but Schupp would find a way to keep his team close. He finished with six strikeouts in a seven-hitter.

"It was not his best game, but he gutted it out. He was suffering from a blister on a foot," Sapochak said.

Vernon drew first blood in the third inning but could have had more runs. Walks to Allen and Brandon Leese and an error scored the run. But a double play and a fly out ended the inning.

Strain picked a good time for his first four-bagger of the year in the hosts' third. He put a shot over the left-field fence at the 325-foot marker for a 4-1 Round Lake lead.

Neal closes in

Lake Villa's Jeff Neal has posted three straight strong finishes to close in on the point leaders in the American Speed Association's AC-Delco Challenge Series.

After a quick series start, Neal fell off the pace but came back with two consecutive top 10 performances in the Players Limited 500 in Calgary, Alberta and the Chevy-Geo Dealers 200 in Grand Rapids, Mich. and 12th place in last weekend's Salem (Ind.) 200.

Neal is currently 11th on the ASA list with 1,164 points. In 10th is Dennis Lampman with 1,190 points. Johnny Benson Jr. leads the stock-car circuit with 1,695 points.

At Salem, Neal and his Split Fire Spark Plugs Ford started in the No. 15 position. Scott Hansen of Green Bay won the race in 1:14:01.59.

Next up is the Mello Yello 300K in Topeka, Kan. Sunday, Aug. 1. The action will be telecast live on the cable channel TNN.

Karolewicz still at home

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

If a baseball fan who was at Faulkner Field in Gurnee for all four games Saturday, blinked in the 90-degree heat, he could easily picture Steve Karolewicz at shortstop.

He may be wearing the blue and gold of Warren High School, or the red and white of Gurnee Indians. Whatever, he would certainly be effortlessly fielding grounders, flipping them to second base for another double play.

But No. 3 was, indeed, back at shortstop Saturday. This time, though, he was wearing the gray Lake Forest Travelers uniform. The Travelers, with Karolewicz's assistance both on offense and defense, swept Gurnee Kaiser Indians 8-7 and 10-1.

"The coach at University of Arkansas-Little Rock wanted myself and Dan Strom to be on the same team," Karolewicz said. The two combined for five of Lake Forest's hits in game one.

Karolewicz had one of the more important blows. His two-run homer tied the game at 5-5 in the fourth. Strom, a Libertyville product who plays second base, had three hits in the first game, including a two-run double which put the icing on the three-run outburst.

"We work well together," said Karolewicz, a Warren grad. "We use the same signals as we used at CLC."

The Indians were left in the dust by the Travelers, who improved to 10-3. The Indians, once 6-1, slipped to 7-7.

"I am beginning to sound like a broken record, but once again, our defense let us down," Indians co-manager Chris Stranowicz said.

Gurnee trailed 3-0 before singles by Rick Braemer, Glenn Chesser and Bill Stranowicz scored the first run. A single by John Baretels loaded the bases up before designated hitter Tom Kristof tied it up.

Dave Farrow, a Warren grad playing at Southern Illinois University, tripled for a two-run lead.

Gurnee tried to rally in the sixth as Joe Keller singled and later scored on a wild pitch.

Chris Stranowicz believes the team still could get back in the Shoreline League race.

"If we just make the routine plays. This league is tough and you can't afford to make errors," Stranowicz said.

The second game was all Lake Forest in a 11-1 route. Lake Forest scored eight runs in the first before Gurnee knew what had hit it.

Gurnee lost a close 5-2 decision to Arlington Heights earlier in the week. Gurnee hosts Highland Park July 25 for a 1 p.m. doubleheader. The league all-star game is later that night at Bowen Park in Waukegan.

Cyclists

who don't follow all the rules, but then how many really lame drivers are there out there?

I see two main groups of cycling offenders. The biggest group is made up of kids. Not only do they think they're invincible, but they think everyone will allow them all the room they need. The latter is probably true, because most people would drive off a cliff to avoid hitting a child, but at the same time, figure adults on bicycles are fair game.

The second group is a much smaller contingent of Saturday-afternoon dads borrowing one of the kids' bikes to go get a six-pack.

Most serious cyclists do follow all the rules, but as Bob Hager at B&G Cyclery in Round Lake Beach put it, having the right of way doesn't mean much against 3,000 pounds of car.

On the other side of the fence, motorists have certain obligations, too. Woodruff said a motorist would be "technically" breaking the law if he passes a cyclist on a double-yellow line. Of course that happens all the time.

Getting to the point for the second time, my well-being is worth at least as much as a motorist's right to get somewhere a couple of minutes faster. If you see a cyclist up ahead, and there's traffic coming the other way, slow down a little. You'd certainly cool your jets for a piece of slow-moving heavy machinery, wouldn't you? Try living in parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio or Indiana, where Amish buggies poke along.

And to those guys who like to come up and blow their horns or — yes, it happens — throw stuff, I have but two questions, Do you have naked pictures of your wives or girlfriends? and Would you like some?

My fantasy is being a cop on a quick motorcycle cleverly disguised as a Schwinn three-speed with a basket and horn on the handlebars. Oh, wouldn't that be a surprise for the discourteous.

It's been said cyclists haven't earned their rights to the roadway because they don't pay for license plates. Fine, I'll pay — and so can all of the people who have five kids with five bikes.

But hey, in the words of the seemingly immortal Rodney King, "Can't we all just get along?"

Splish, splash, Knights' strong start hopes sink

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The Lake County Knights and Chicago Panthers both know why the place where they tried to play football Sunday is called Butler Lake.

The two semi-pro teams opened their exhibition season with more splashing and splashing than an Olympic swimming tryout. The only thing was missing was Gene Kelly's rendition of "Singing in the Rain."

The Knights dropped the contest 25-0, but have been turning their focus to finding a place to play. North Chicago High cancelled its invitation to play games there, so the team was left scrambling for the July 25 contest against the Chargers.

This game was decided in between the lightning bolts. Panther quarterback Tom Lesniewicz completed two 21-yard touchdown passes to Kevin Floary and Avery Thurman. Kevin Jackson and Thomas Campbell scored for the win.

"I have not seen anything like this in the three years I have been coaching the team," said Panther coach Reg Taylor.

The Panthers' Campbell got the first big break. He recovered a Knights fumble after a punt, leading up to Lesniewicz's first TD pass.

"I thought we were more prepared than we were. They started to run eight-man fronts and we had a set series of plays to run against that, but we never got momentum until we went with short passes," Nelson said.

Gordon Bittner started at QB for the third-year Knights, and Kevin Amedi came in for the third quarter. The Knights gained less than 35 yards in first-half offense.

The fourth quarter was not played save for a couple of minutes due to another downpour.

Dan Halverson provided the defensive highlight, blocking the first extra-point try by the Panthers.

"He is a power player. On extra points, we send 11 guys to try and block it," Nelson said.

Halverson played a key role in the 1990 Carmel team which made it to the quarterfinals. But two knee operations ended Halverson's college playing hopes.

Gurnee surprises itself

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Erick Blaha was uncertain about the fate of the baseball when it left his bat. "I did not think it was going to go out," Blaha said of his two-run homer.

The blast gave Gurnee Post 771's baseball team the cushion it needed as the team held back Libertyville 9-5 Saturday. The win gives the Gurnee squad a spot in the final four July 23-25 at the College of Lake County.

Blaha helped his own cause with the hit, his second. He earlier doubled. The homer was the first for Blaha.

Blaha, from Antioch and College of Lake County-bound, had a key double in a 4-1 win over Lake Zurich. That win Saturday morning eliminated LZ from the tourney.

"I have a lot of confidence in these kids. They are a great bunch of competitors," Gurnee manager Rick Hill said.

Gurnee lost to Barrington, 14-9 in the first round. The team received a respite when Antioch, a nine-member team in its first tourney game, forfeited.

"We came out and took batting practice for an hour and a-half. That is what we needed," Hill said.

Libertyville (9-15) had Blaha on the ropes in almost every inning. The visitors had a baserunner in all innings except the last six outs against reliever Curt Salata.

"Erick is his own worst enemy. He struggled and then tried to be too perfect," Hill said.

The tourney was an emotional one for Libertyville. Manager John Ahlgrim missed two days as his wife gave birth, and Bill Wolverton and Scott Schleiden directed the team.

Libertyville used stolen bases and the pitching of Brian Buckingham to down Lake Zurich 7-2, downed Vernon 12-5 behind Schleiden's pitching, but then lost to a final four bid try to Barrington.

"Today, we did not hit the ball bad, but they hit the ball better," Ahlgrim said. "When you get the ball up in the air here, it will go out of the park. They do a nice job of having enough left-handers." Gurnee (15-5) struck first with a six-run second inning. Mark Leginski's two-run homer and a three-run double by Todd Eifert were the telling blows.

Libertyville got back into the game thanks to four walks by Blaha, all of whom scored, in the third. Schleiden doubled and Jamie Carruthers had a two-RBI single.

Following Blaha's homer, Libertyville tried to rally. Jim Moras was hit by a pitch and Schleiden walked. Matt Wolverton was also hit by a pitch, and Hill called on Salata to close out the sixth.

In the earlier Lake Zurich game, Blaha's two-run double made it 3-0. Salata then drove him in for a 4-0 second-inning lead.

Paulson paces 'Cats to semis

Libertyville High's summer baseball team moved on to the semifinals of the Stevenson regional with a powerful offensive game against Crystal Lake South.

The Wildcats pounded the Gators 14-2, earning a spot in the semis against the host team. The regional final was set for Thursday.

"We hit the ball well and got a lot of runs early," Libertyville Coach Jim Panther said.

Libertyville scored five times in the first inning.

Bob Paulson gained the win as he struckout six Gators. "He really looked good," Panther said.

He also looked good at the plate, gaining three hits and being on base five times.

Andrew Robertson had three hits, including a double; Jamie Carruthers two hits; Erick Figurelli and Pat Thompson each had a pair of hits.

Libertyville entered regional semi action 16-8.

"I'm optimistic. We have some needs to fill, but overall, we have done a nice job," Panther said.

Stevenson won over Mundelein. In other games, Carmel was ousted by Barrington 10-0 after downing Lake Zurich in the first round.

Carmel will play at LTSC

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

Carmel High School has officially joined the Partnership Program at the soon-to-be-unveiled Libertyville Township Soccer Complex. The Corsair boys and girls will call the LTSC home this coming school year.

The $2-million-plus complex is slated to open next month, with the grand-opening ceremonies set for Aug. 29.

"It's going fine," said Dick Stone, the LTSC fundraising chairman. "As we speak, someone is at the county trying to get the final permits for the LTSC center. We have to follow the same procedures as everybody else when building. We should be finished permitting by the end of next week. We hope to have the foundation poured within the next couple of weeks.

"The fields are coming in real well — the weather has been very conducive with the rain we've had. We're getting ready to do the lighting on the championship field — field No. 1 — and field No. 4."

Stone said a special "Wall of Fame" featuring everyone who donated "big or small" will be part of the center. Portrait Masters of Wauconda is donating the plaques.

"We want to encourage everyone who donated to come out and see their plaques," Stone said.

The 115-acre, 15-field complex will include picnic areas, nature trails, jogging and biking paths, a playground and many other amenities.

Race-walk couple, record-setter lead Family 5K

by STEVE PETERSON

Corrine and Mike Hodges were, like the other 160 runners, more than a little tired as they crossed the finish line at Grayslake High School.

The two were the first finishers in the race-walk portion of the second annual Grayslake Family Fun Run, a 5K event.

"It was a little slow. I train a couple of times a week and swim and Mike rides the power bike," Corrine Hodges said. She was the first walker, completing the event in 35:10. Her husband Mike was close behind in second place.

"Mike was a football player but hurt his knees. You will find a lot of race-walkers used to be runners," Corrine said.

Mike works at Abbott while Corrine is employed at the College of Lake County.

There were 30 participants more than last year's total of 130 when Miss Grayslake Kristin Vaughn yelled "go" just after 8 a.m.

"I get them going. It is great to see so many people," volunteer Joan Kratochvil said.

The volunteer crew was worried when the rains came early Sunday. But by 7 a.m. registration, the skies cleared and 162 runners finished the course.

The race was sponsored by the Grayslake Area Chamber of Commerce and Victory Medical Center. The hospital offered blood pressure checks before and after the event.

Rob Leanna of Grayslake was the first to come around the curve of the GCHS track, in a record time of 15:46.

"There were a lot of good runners, which pushed the pace at the beginning," he said. Leanna is a 1981 Woodstock graduate who raced for Illinois State.

Dan Crocker was second and Jeff Harvey third to round out the top male finishers.

"It was a nice and flat course," Leanna said.

Heidi Hackenmer of Kenosha was the first female finisher, in 20:28. She will run for Trepper High next month.

She beat out Kim Dahm of Mundelein and Barbie Schmidt.

Rachel Perez of Mundelein was pushing the stroller in which her 14-month-old daughter, Laura, was riding. Laura defended her title in the 0-4 age group.

The Liberty Road and Track Club, which trains at Libertyville High School, out-kicked the Grayslake High team for the first-place team honors. Darry Johnson, Rich Cohen and Dr. Craig Dean, beat out Jennie Dunbar, Becky Eiden and Sara Worrell. The Victory Memorial Center team of Philip Hice, Nancy Sislow and Ken Gar-side finished third. Dunbar and Dean won their age divisions.

Runners enjoyed apples and bananas from Jerry's Parkway Foods.

The Mobleys of Grayslake once again were a double-winner family. Shaun gained third in the 5-9 men's race and Brian was second. Tim Hamilton won the bracket.

There were a few dogs in the race, such as the Dalmatian "Dillon" Dawson and "Rascoe" Rousche.

There was one politician, State Rep. Al Salvi (R-Wauconda), who finished second in his age group. "I usually run about 10 races a year," he said.

Jeff Turnbull. For Round Lake, gaining a spot in the district's final four continues success gained by a team, which has mostly Grayslake players. They got their start in baseball by winning division tities as Grayslake Mohawks, contributed mightily as Round Lake reached the national tournament for Colts in 1991 and then gained center stage on their home field as the sun set Tuesday. "This group has been together since they were eight. This is a group of pretty good kids and I enjoy coaching them. I give them a lot of freedom. Many of them can steal on their own," Sapochak said.

Wauconda, forfeit spell end to Antioch in Legion tourney

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Steve Waldo of the Wauconda American Legion has a unique perspective in certain ball games.

He may A) shut down the opposition as a pitcher; B) get a key hit as a hitter or C) catch the game after a pitching change.

Waldo had a chance to do all three aspects as the Wauconda Post 911 shutout Antioch 10-0 in District 10 tourney play. The win propelled Wauconda (5-7) to the winners bracket. Antioch (2-12) would not play again, as it forfeited a losers bracket game to Gurnee.

"Catching is fun for me. When you are behind the plate, you can tell about a batter better than when you are pitching," Waldo said.

Waldo, the regular catcher for the Wauconda High team, kept every hitter except Matt DeMartini off stride. DeMartini had two of the Antioch four hits, including a single to start the game. Jason Opsal, who traded positions with Waldo in the battery worked the last two innings.

"I did not go out there thinking for a no-hitter. I did not know I was going to start until I got here. My slider was working pretty good. I have had it for the last two years. It is usually my punch-out pitch," Waldo said.

"We came out there and hit the ball real well. We were aggressive. The first pitch is usually a good pitch," Waldo said.

DeMartini was shut down in a stolen-base attempt and a walk to Keith Lindbloom was Antioch's only other baserunner until DeMartini's sixth-inning single.

Wauconda's bats were, as Waldo said, "aggressive," with an 11-hit attack.

"The guys did a real good job hitting the ball on 1-2 counts," Wauconda manager Byron Johnson Sr. said.

Kevin Cajda broke the game open with a home run to left on a 1-2 pitch by Antioch starter Casey O'Donnell. That upped the home team's lead to 3-0.

"All I was trying to do was make contact and get a base hit," Cajda said.

Cajda had three hits to lead Wauconda, as he had an RBI single in a six-run fifth inning.

"I'm just out here having fun. I hit a lot of home runs in high school and I am just keeping up with it," Cajda said.

Waldo stated the key fifth inning with a double. Jason Moreley walked, Jim Schmuck had an RBI single and Paul Krucek an RBI sacrifice fly. Opsal singled, as did pinch-hitter Curt Van Alstine. Cajda completed the scoring an RBI single.

"Tonight, we had our full team out here. We had a real good defensive team and they can hit," Johnson Sr. said.

ACHS cheerleaders compete nationally

Antioch High School Varsity and Sophomore Cheerleaders decided to have summer camp at home this year. A home camp is a choice that allows greater individual squad attention with more chance of improvement. This year's camp was conducted by the International Cheerleading Foundation. The three day program was conducted by an exceptionally qualified staff including one cheerleader from the University of Kansas and another from the number one college cheerleading squad in the nation—the University of Kentucky.

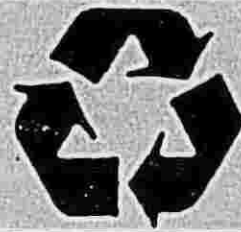

The girls also elected to stay overnight for two nights at the school to build team spirit. During the final hour of the camp the parents were invited to a performance that showed what the girls had learned during the three days. The squads were also evaluated by the camp staff for squad and individual recognitions.

Both the sophomore and varsity squads worked extremely hard during the three days despite the lack of sleep during the night. The varsity qualified for the National Cheerleading Championship to be held on December 27 through 30, and will be staying at the Opryland Hotel in Nashville, Tenn.

Sarah McKoski and Dana Thompson were recommended for and given applications to tryout and become ICF instructors next year after graduation from high school. They were both given an invitation to tryout individually at Nashville for scholarships and prizes. Sarah McKoski, Dana Thompson, Laura Harris, and Candy Chingo were elected as All American Cheerleaders and invited to travel to Ireland where they will participate in a parade and other activities.

Members of the ACHS Varsity Cheerleaders include: Danielle Adams, Captain Candy Chingo, Laura Harris, Gina Hoerle, Brandi Houle, Katie Lutgen, Captain Sarah McKoski, Heather Miller, Jamie Ryan, Dana Thompson, Jill Thompson, Jeni Weber, and Amber Weitkiewicz.

Authentic review sparks tour of 500 sea cadets

by BILL SCHROEDER
Lakeland Newspapers

Nearly 500 boys and girls 14 to 17 had the time of their life for two weeks at Great Lakes Naval Training Center getting a taste of Navy life and advancing themselves as members of the U.S. Naval Sea Cadet Corps.

Upon the completion of mini boot camp, the cadets had a graduation review that was as authentic as the weekly recruit review, including inspection by Rear Adm. Mack C. Gaston, Naval Training Center commander.

And just like the real thing, parents and friends from a number of midwestern states were on hand to witness the colorful spectacle and congratulate the Sea Cadet in their family.

"You've been exposed to Navy life and you're helping carry on the tradition of making the United States a maritime nation," exclaimed the review guest of honor, Fred C. Carl, a retired Navy captain who is national chairman of Sea Cadets, sponsored by individual councils of the Navy League.

Carl said the two week experience at Great Lakes puts the cadets "one up" on their friends back home.

During their two week camp, the youths divided into seven companies including one female unit studied naval history, customs and tradition, seamanship, navigation and similar subjects. Sea Cadets are permitted to go to sea after completing the two-week course.

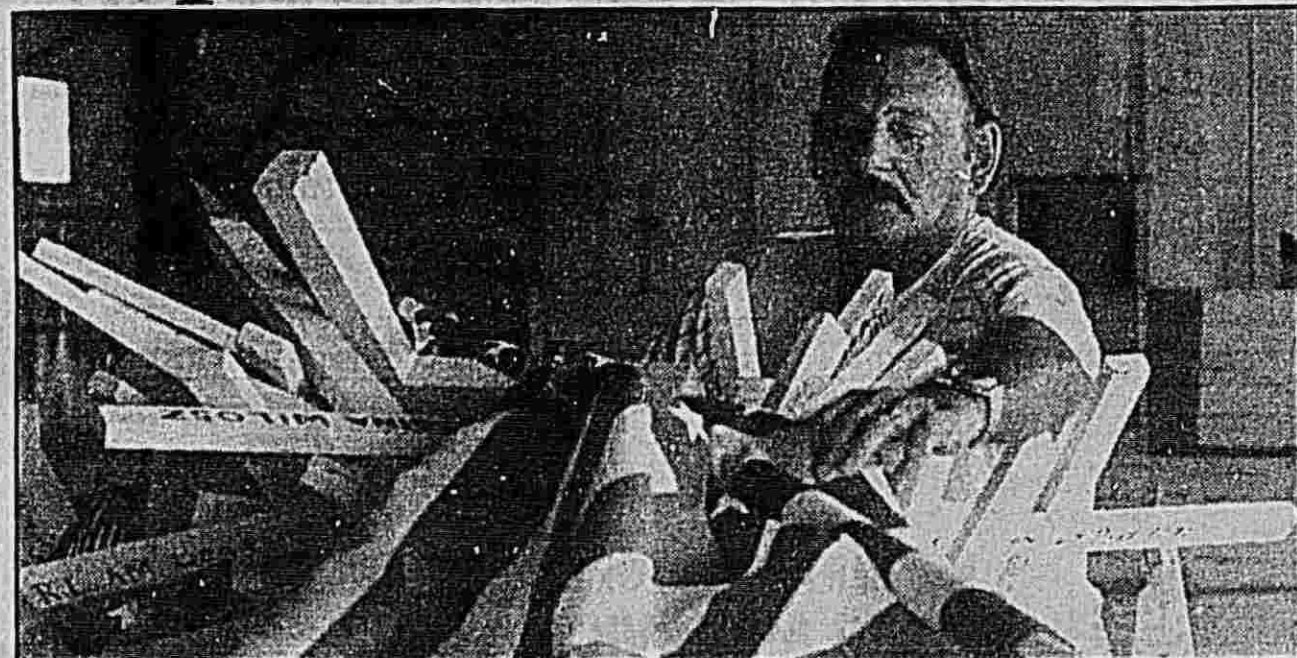

Not all the time was spent in classroom. The youths, many of them prospects for future Navy enlistment, enjoyed athletics, tours of the center and social activities.

In his talk, Carl emphasized that Sea Cadet membership "bridges the gap between youth and adult."

Displacement of crosses upsets veteran Cutrano

Charles Cutrano rearranges an American flag which was placed on top of crosses which were taken from Fort Sheridan cemetery and placed in a motorpool. Officials said crosses were removed so grass could be mowed.

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The grass outside of the cemetery at Fort Sheridan was neatly cut last Friday. All the rows were perfect, not a blade was out of place.

The crosses and U.S. flags, which flew proudly over the site at the closed Army facility, were missing, though, and Charles Cutrano is upset.

"This is a disgrace," Cutrano said. Crosses, flags and Jewish Star of David were in the middle of a damp, dark former motorpool building. The crosses were broken, flags on the ground.

Officials at Fort McCoy, Wis., said the display had to be removed due to lawn maintenance. "It was determined that the crosses had been up there for a reasonable amount of time and the proper people were notified," Marv Clark, Fort McCoy spokesperson, said.

Cutrano said Monday he received a call from Col. Scott Hyatt, who apologized. The broken flags will be replaced. This was expected to take place Saturday.

The displacing of the flags came a few days after Cutrano organized a candlelight service. Some 150 people attended. Earlier, the Korean War veteran set up a two-day event to draw attention to the veterans' bid to acquire the cemetery.

Since Fort Sheridan closed in June, Fort McCoy has been in charge of the grounds, the Navy the Navy housing area.

"We were going to use the crosses for another time," Cutrano, of Gurnee, said.

"To cut the grass, they had to do this," an emotional Cutrano said.

Cutrano said he has 30 days to remove the crosses or they will be destroyed.

IT'S THE TALK OF THE TOWN

Slow down

To all those people entering the College Trail subdivision in Grayslake - SLOW DOWN. There are children out there playing. You should only be going 25 mph not 35-40. Also, the big kids should stay out of the children's park. This is for little kids.

Rates wrong

"Mad Postal worker" needs to get his facts straight before he shoots his mouth off. None of the flyers he talked about were delivered by hand by village employees. All of the flyers were delivered by volunteers like myself. He also needs to find out more about the mail bulk rate. If we had mailed these 3,000 flyers out, it would have cost the village over $1,000 not the $5 he talked about. Get your facts straight before shooting off your mouth.

Football and funding

Looks like Mr. William Perry will get to play football instead of worrying about silly things like Mike Ditka. Another thing, let's give Bosnia and Russia millions and millions of dollars. But, make sure we give our own flooded farmers loans. Thanks U. S. government.

Helpful reading

Dear "Needs support," my father was diagnosed with cancer last December. He is still trying to hang in there. He lives in California, while we are in Lake Villa. We try to be there as much as we can. My physician here suggested a book called "Death and Dying" by Kubler-Ross. His doctor recommended the same book. We have read it many times and it helps as much as anything could.

Subsidizing security

I am another tax paying Mundelein resident and am wondering why we are subsidizing security at Whitehall Manor. Shouldn't the owners of the property hire their own security, if that's what it takes?

Go mow

I live on Wilson Road in Ingleside and if you do not like the long grass here, why don't you come over and mow it yourself?

Secret applicants

Even in Chicago, they allow the residents to know who is up for local appointments. Not in Lake Zurich, where these things are kept secret. Also, why didn't the entire board select the new police chief?

Very bugged

We need help! There are six homes in the Heather Wood subdivision which border a retention pond. The pond is stagnant with no moving water and a breeding ground for mosquitoes. After paying $4,000 in taxes, can't we get some insect control here? After dusk we cannot enjoy our yards at all.

Graffiti

I am from Wauconda. I want to know why park district commissioners had to engrave their names in new concrete sidewalk at the park district?

Good advice

I am from Grayslake. I am happy to see that there are two new businesses in town. By the way, let's let this Vernon Hills, Round Lake thing go.

Editorial note: Consider it over!

Real life not reel

I am complaining about the police chases local police have been involved in. They were chasing a 20-year-old boy in a 16-year-old car. They wound up losing both the car and the boy. If I was a relative of this boy I would be in U.S. District Court and sue for $1 million dollars. There was no reason for him to die. This is real life not a movie.

Against bad zoos

My trip to Lincoln Park Zoo was like my trip to the Field Museum. The animals look depressed, bored, stressed, and the best time for them was feeding time. The Chicago Park District does a terrible job of keeping up the park in such a nice neighborhood. It is not worth putting the animals through this slow, death row experience just so my kids can see wildlife close up. Signed, Endangered Species.

Clearing it up

I was misquoted. I did not mean the people on Wilson Road did not cut the grass, I meant Northern Illinois Gas.

Been there

Here are some suggestions for "Needs support". It is always tough to lose someone you love, but first remind yourself that your loved one is suffering and you do not want that. Next tell your hubby to be grateful for the loving memories they have had to share. Count your blessings and enjoy the little time you have. Try to make some donation in her name. Friends of ours started a scholarship fund in our daughter's name and it makes us feel like she is still here helping others. Hope this helps you.

Anti-home schooling

I am calling from Fox Lake and think that the school district is exactly right in denying the home schooling individual to play in school sports. We should do everything we can to stop these people. If the school is not good enough for them, then, neither should our sports programs.

Teen dilemma

I am calling about my best friend. I am so sick and tired of this. One day she is telling ugly rumors about me and the next day she calls me and acts like my best friend. I don't know what to do about her.
